Battering Ends Old Landmark

Another landmark along the path of East Liverpool's pioneer pottery industry disappeared in the wake of progress Wednesday when a steel battering ball of a crane reduced to a pile of rubble five upright kilns—believed to have been built between 1875 and 1880—to make way for expansion of the River Rail Terminal Co. on the River Rd.

The kilns were destroyed in less than an hour. The 40-foot high structures were situated on the original site of the Homer Laughlin Pottery Co.

The original installation of about 10 kilns was purchased later by the National China Co. and then the Harker Pottery Co. acquired the plant.

At least two of the structures were believed to have been built of old-fashioned handmade red brick fired on the scene.

Officials of the terminal company said that the rubble will be used for fill for its new docks. Workers from the Hunter Construction Co. cleared the land to make way for expansion of the terminal.

Seay Given Life Term In Girl Assault

City Child's Attacker Barred From Parole By Verdict Of Judge

John Peter Seay of Pittsburgh was sentenced to life in prison Wednesday in Hancock County Circuit Court after pleading guilty to raping a 13-year-old East Liverpool girl.

The burly river dredge worker, who had boasted several times of his escape from federal prisons while being held in the County Jail at New Cumberland, admitted luring the girl to his car July 29 and criminally assaulting her twice while parked in a wooded area near Rock Springs Park in Chester.

Circuit Court Judge J. Harold Brennan recommended that Seay never be eligible for parole.

Seay previously entered a plea of not guilty but changed it to guilty at the hearing yesterday in Judge Brennan's chambers.

In passing sentence, Judge Brennan commented "I should feel very much as though I was doing a great wrong if I imposed any other sentence."

He pointed out that if he rejected Seay's plea of guilty, which does not call for a trial by jury, that "I should feel I was unjustifiably gambling with the right of the community of Hancock County."

Judge Brennan pointed out that there had been no rape conviction in Hancock for 34 years and explained that he "would not think of a death sentence for Seay without a trial."

Seay was indicted on two charges of criminal assault of the young girl by the September Grand Jury. He was arrested by East Liverpool police Aug. 4 following five days of painstaking investigation.

He will be conveyed to the Moundsville State Penitentiary upon completion of entrance papers by the office of Frank A. Pietranton, Hancock County prosecuting attorney.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents had placed a detainer on Seay for transporting the girl across the West Virginia state line with intent of assault.

He was also wanted on various charges in Virginia, deputies said. His criminal record goes back to 1943.

City Registers 11,554 Voters For Fall Ballot

Highest Since 1940, Board Terms Total When Signup Ends

East Liverpool voter registration reached an 18-year high of 11,554 when the County Election Board closed its books Wednesday night at 10 on enrollment for the Nov. 4 general election.

A total of 288 registered on the final day — 166 during normal daylight office hours and 172 in the night-time rush shortly before the deadline.

The registration is the highest since 1940, when 12,642 registered here for a voice in the Roosevelt-Willkie Presidential election.

Like all Ohioans, East Liverpool is intensely interested in the so-called "right-to-work" law that will be on the ballot in November.

But an even larger factor in the big registration, according to local election observers, is interest in an initiative ordinance proposed by Trades and Labor Council that would repeal the municipal income tax.

In addition to the registrations, 301 voters recorded transfers — changes of address — in the campaign that opened in late August. Under state law, registration books will be closed until 10 days after the fall balloting.

Discussing the registration total, O'Hanlon said the Election Board estimates that about 2,000 one-time East Liverpool voters have moved in the postwar migration to, non-registration areas in the suburbs.

He pointed out the total registra-

Mercury Hits 84, Lily Blooms—This Autumn?

This is autumn — but the mercury hit the mid-80's Wednesday and a Wellsville man reported an Easter lily in bloom.

Summer departed Tuesday and yesterday Dam 8 said the temperature soared to 84 at 3 p. m. and the overnight low was a sultry 71 after a midnight reading of 76.

The hot and humid weather will continue today with scattered showers forecast through tonight followed by a cooling trend.

The day's high temperature will range from 78 to 82 and tonight's low will be 65 to 68. Friday will be cloudy and cooler.

Warren Urie, 512 Broadway, Wellsville, reported two blooms on an Easter lily planted last spring. Other lily plants in the yard have bloomed but not so late in the year.

Rocket, Missile Go Awry

Missile-Mad City 'Back To Normal'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Cape and the missile-mad town of Coca Beach returned to normal today after a hectic seven hours during which a Polaris test rocket ran amok and another missile crashed and burned.

No one was hurt, but quite a few persons were shaken for a time.

The area, a finger of land that juts out into the Atlantic off Florida's east coast, was bombed with fiery debris Wednesday when the Polaris twisted crazily off course and was blasted from the sky.

Later, an X10 experimental missile crashed and disappeared in flames when it overshot the cape landing strip after completing a test with the Air Force's Bomarc air defense missile.

The Polaris burst into two parts at about 50,000 feet after a quick-thinking range safety officer pressed an automatic destruction button. His instruments showed the rocket was tipping toward the densely populated mainland rather than curving out over the Atlantic.

One flaming section splashed into the Banana River beside Cocoa Beach and the other landed on the cape after tracing puffy trails of white smoke across the sky.

It was the first time that a runaway missile threatened a residential area since the cape opened in 1950.

It was learned that the rocket went out of control when a malfunction developed in the programer, a small electrical device that directs the control system.

The X10, a turbojet powered missile, was shot aloft as a drone target for the deadly Bomarc.

The 300-mile Bomarc travels at three times the speed of sound to seek out and destroy an enemy airborne target.

As far as it was known, it was the first time one U.S. missile had been fired at another in a test.

The results of the test were not announced.

Some To Drop Fast Time

Confusion Starts Sunday Between DST, EST Towns

Autumn will be noted not only for bright blue skies but for irritating confusion over time differences as some communities will switch back to Eastern Standard Time Sunday while others, including East Liverpool, will continue with Daylight Saving Time through October.

Scheduled to revert to "slow" time are Wellsville, Salineville and Beaver Local School District.

The extra hour of daylight will be retained by Chester, Salem, Midland, Lisbon and the Courthouse ofices, East Palestine and Hancock and Beaver County communities.

There has been some pressure in East Liverpool and other communities planning to continue fast time through Oct. 26 for the return to standard time on the traditional Sunday in September.

The conflict between slow time in Beaver Local schools and fast time in East Liverpool will be duplicated in the northern part of the Columbiana County.

The Leetonia Board of Education Wednesday night authorized the return of slow time to Leetonia schools starting Monday, although the village will remain on fast time.

Columbiana schools will also revert to standard time although the village will remain on Daylight Saving Time. The Fairfield-Waterford district schools will return to slow time.

Chief proponents of the September time change have been school officials and others arguing the extra hour of daylight in the mornings would provide for more light and less fog for transportation of children to schools.

The death of a Unity School youngster in a crash of a truck and school bus in fog earlier this month gave incentive to this argument, and the East Palestine Ministerial Association has requested the Council of that city to revert to standard time. Council has not taken any such action, however.

In East Liverpool a similar request from school officials resulted in a move by Council to study the problem throughout the area in

Nationalists Knock Out 16 Of Reds' Guns

Ammunition Depot, Gas Store, Radar Station Destroyed

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry today claimed artillery fire from Quemoy knocked out 16 Communist guns and six artillery emplacements Wednesday.

Nationalist gunners also blew up a mainland ammunition depot, a gasoline store and a radar station, the ministry said.

Communist shelling of the offshore islands started off its 34th day with 1,852 rounds by noon, according to Nationalist count. The Reds hurled 6,211 shells at the Quemoys Wednesday, the ministry said.

Qualified sources in Taipei said the Nationalists were not pressing the United States to assent to Nationalists bombing of the mainland gun positions. The U.S. ban is intended to keep the fighting over the Quemoys from spreading to Formosa, which Washington is pledged to defend.

Fighting between Red China and the United States could lead to a major war.

"We understand fully and sympathetically America's position, said a Nationalist official who declined to be identified.

The Nationalists accused the Communists of trying to force Nationalist jet fighters over the mainland in the hope of shooting one down and claiming it was raiding Red China.

In the resulting aerial battle between 32 Nationalist Sabre Jets and more than 100 Soviet-designed MIG17s, 10 MIGs were shot down and two more possibly destroyed, the Defense Ministry said. The claim was based on study of gun camera films by both Chinese and U.S. Air Force experts.

The ministry denied a Peiping

Tract In Toronto Area To Be Game Preserve

The Division of Wildlife of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources has leased a 1,000 - acre tract of land just west of Route 7 and to the north of Toronto for development of a game preserve and hunting area.

The land was leased for 99 years for $1 from the Kaul Clay Co., according to Ray Starr, Jefferson County game warden. Starr said the program calls for the building of access roads and establishment of some small ponds.

Not Certain Of Artillery On Mainland

Official Estimates Reported Based On Present Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top-level Pentagon estimate today is that Nationalist China is strong enough to throw back any Red Chinese invasion attempt against Quemoy without help from U.S. combat forces.

Conversely, the Pentagon believes there is no certainty that Nationalist aircraft could knock out Red guns on the China mainland if they tried.

This official assessment was based on present circumstances. Authorities said it could change if any of the factors changed—for example, if Red China went all out to conquer Quemoy without regard to frightful military losses or the danger of touching off a nuclear war.

The estimate became known as the gloom pervading the Formosa Strait crisis for a month appeared to be lifting somewhat.

Here were some of the hopeful signs, although officials freely conceded that the crisis was far from over and that Red China could upset the situation by a reckless act:

1. The Nationalist government on Formosa announced the Red blockade of the offshore Quemoys was broken. U.S. officials were not quite that enthusiastic. They said Quemoy needs 400 tons of supplies a day and not that much is yet getting through the artillery-raked beaches. Still, the drain on Quemoy's well-stocked reserves was lessened. So was the Nationalist pressure to attack the mainland-based guns which imposed the blockade.

2. The Nationalists claimed 32 of their jets, without losses, shot down 10 and possibly six more out of 100 Communist jets in aerial combat over the strait. This was hailed as another demonstration of Nationalist air superiority.

3. With the United Nations having postponed for another year any action on seating Red China, there was hope Red China might now ease up on its troublemaking in the strait. This hope was founded on belief that Peiping's new threats to Quemoy were designed, in major part at least, to grab attention for its U.N. bid.

Formosa Gets Attention In Backstage UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —America's two main allies outline their foreign policies to the General Assembly today before a backdrop of high-level talks on the Formosa crisis.

The still unsettled Middle East crisis may also get an airing when Jordan takes the rostrum in the Assembly's general debate.

It was felt certain that Britain will back any U.S. move to bring Formosa before the United Nations. But British spokesman have been echoing the American stand that no action should be taken until the Warsaw talks have a chance to produce results.

Indications mounted in the Polish capital that the talks between U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red China's envoy Wang Ping-nan were at the climactic stage in an atmosphere of gloom.

If they produce nothing in the next few days the United States is expected to seek U.N. action.

The British public appears split over Formosa, with the Laborites warning against getting embroiled in a third world war and Conservatives suggesting that Britain might play a behind the scenes role as counsellor of caution.

A Day In The Life Of A Candidate

It's Up At 7 And On Go All Day As DiSalle Bids For Governor Post

(What are the little problems which pile on top of the big ones in a normal campaign day for the governorship of Ohio? The Associated Press assigned staff writer Art Parks to find out. This is his account of a day in the personal and political life of Democrat Michael V. DiSalle. Next: Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.)

By ART PARKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Awake at 7 after six hours of sleep, Mike DiSalle takes full advantage of the privacy he knows he will not enjoy again all day. Without a soul around to interrupt him, he spends a solid 30 minutes in just plain thinking.

At 7:30, the feet of the short, solidly built candidate finally hit the deck in his Dayton hotel room. Another day in his campaign, which already has taken him twice into every county of the state, is about to get ander way. Like most men, DiSalle spends a few moments staring idly at his reflection in the bathroom mirror. What he sees there is somewhat different from even two years ago. The face is thinner — now more square than round - for DiSalle has shed some of his weight. And the blond mustache is gone along with the ever-ready smile. The eyes, too, are grave now - like the eyes of a man who sees serious work ahead.

Once he gets going after a few idle seconds, DiSalle is an efficient man. Shaving time with his safety razor: 90 seconds. The shower: Not much longer.

Juice, eggs, toast and coffee and back to the hotel room again for a period of study. His over-sized tan leather briefcase yields hundreds of letters, reports and newspaper clippings sorted in a filing system that is all his own.

9:30 a. m. — First event of the day - another in a series of local news conferences. Newsmen gather in a hotel conference room and settle in easy chairs. DiSalle enters, spreads the contents of the briefcase on the floor in front of him in a semicircle. After explaining that he expects to learn as much from the newsmen as they learn from him, DiSalle is ready to begin.

A hotel waiter rolls in a cart of coffee and cakes. The newsmen take turns eating and drinking and asking questions. Local problems, mostly dealing with highways, seem uppermost in newsmen's minds.

They want to know what DiSalle proposes to do about this and that. Whenever a question is fired at him on an issue he knows anything about, DiSalle apparently has no hesitation about answering. At one point, he makes no bones about his dislike for the highway department's "one-price - take-it-or-go-to-court policy."

At another point, in response to a question about heavy truck traffic:

"There may come a day when we'll have to have separate roads for trucks and autos in some crowded areas."

"It's time we head for Middletown," says Ray Arganbright, DiSalle's aide and driver. The newsmen start to drift out. But in rushes a television man breathlessly.

"There must have been a mix-up," he explains. "How about a few shots?"

"Say something about the right-to-work issue," the TV reporter asks.

"I believe in free enterprise," DiSalle begins. "That involves freedom for both management and labor - freedom to enter into contracts without government interference. For that reason I personally will vote against the proposal. But I do not believe the campaign for governor should be conducted on that issue. Let the proponents and opponents conduct the debate."

With that finished, Arganbright urges: "We'd better be checking out."

DiSalle reaches in a pocket, pulls out two twenties and a ten, fumbles, indecisively, hands the entire $50 to Arganbright, then calls after his retreating back:

"Hey, I'll have some change coming - I hope!"

"Where's my briefcase?"

"Omigosh," groans McIntire, "not that again!" He heads for the conference room at a trot, confiding on the way: "Mike lost his briefcase a couple of weeks ago on that 16th-18th district tour and it took a week to get it back."

This time there is no problem, though. The case is found back of DiSalle's chair in the conference room.

12 noon - The candidate is ushered into a luncheon club dining room in a Middletown hotel.

The luncheon and the talk take little more than an hour. The candidate, his aides and Frank Dobrozsi, vice chairman of the Butler County Democratic Committee, retire to a third-floor hotel room for a rest and a political chat. Between dozens of visitors and a half-dozen phone calls, there's little rest.

Suddenly to McIntire: "Where's my briefcase?"

McIntire blanches, casts a quick eye around the room, gets down on his knees and peers under the bed. "Maybe you left it in the car," he ventures.

"No, I'm sure I brought it into the hotel."

A new search begins for the vanishing valise. This reporter finds it behind the door in the now-darkened dining room, returns it to DiSalle.

"Hey Mike," one of the visitors interjects, "you know your speech tonight is being broadcast, don't you?"

"No! Well, thanks for telling me."

"Someone was supposed to get the word to you," the visitor says lamely.

3:30 P. M. - Another press conference, this one for Butler County newsmen, in another conference room.

A labor representative asks DiSalle to re-state his position on the proposal to ban the union shop. The candidate repeats, almost word for word, his statement of the morning. But this time - in somewhat sulphurous terms — he expresses disappointment that Congress failed to pass a bill calling for labor reforms.

"Can you give us anything in advance on your speech tonight?"

DiSalle sits cross-legged, tailor-fashion, in a big chair. Asked about it, he explains: "It rests my legs."

John Arthur Dobrozsi walks in and assures DiSalle he can turn on the airport lights at Middletown if DiSalle's pilot needs them.

5:15 P. M. - Dobrozsi comments: "We had better be on our way. It will take us at least 40 minutes to get there."

DiSalle, having repaired the confusion in his brief case which resulted from two press conferences and a speech, gets a firm grip on the valise and climbs in the Dobrozsi car. Arganbright, for a change, gets a respite from driving.

The meeting is sponsored by the Women's Democratic League of Butler County. The site is in Meadowbrook, a handsome park complete with lodge, swimming pool, shelterhouse and innumerable picnic tables.

The women had planned for about 150 and expected the dinner to be served in the lodge. But ticket sales soared past the 250 mark. That meant the meeting was forced into the shelterhouse.

Naturally, an overflow crowd makes any candidate happy, but DiSalle mutters: "I hope they have a podium. It's tough enough to speak outdoors, even with a place to put your notes."

He needn't have fretted. There is a podium, plus a public address system, plus a radi microphone.

As guest of honor, DiSalle is served first. He and league officers have finished their chicken and trimmings before the crowd is more than half served. He spends the time while others are eating to circulate, meeting new people, calling old friends by name.

8 P. M. - Finally it is radio time. DiSalle gets a very proper introduction and he is launched on a speech dealing with Ohio's welfare problems.

Only two or three times does he give a clue that this is not a memorized speech; only a couple of times does he become so tangled in rhetoric that he finishes a sentence lamely. The 30 - minute speech ends in the huzzahs of the crowd.

Then comes the inevitable introductions. There are so many that even the toastmistress is laughing.

DiSalle is called upon for one last official duty. He pulls a door-prize ticket out of the hat.

He circulates again, this time asking: "How do things look?"

Always comes the reply: "Good, Mike! Good!"

12:30 A. M. - Home again.

1:50 A. M. - to bed again.

(P. S. Mike DiSalle was up again at 7:30 a. m.

$90,000 Suit Against Lias Is Dismissed

WHEELING (AP) — U. S. Northern District Court dismissed "with prejudice" a $90,000 suit against William G. (Big Bill) Lias, one-time Wheeling race track owner who has been plagued by suits for income tax evasion.

Federal Judge Herbert S. Boreman held a pre-trial conference here earlier this month and the order dismissing the suit brought by Lias' Washington tax attorneys was announced yesterday.

The order said that "matters in controversy have been settled." It said the case was dismissed upon motion of attorneys for the plaintiffs "with prejudice" at the cost of the defendants.

The specified type of dismissal indicated that the case will not be filed again in U. S. District Court here.

James M. Barnes and Thurman Hill filed the suit against Lias and members of his family for legal services they rendered from Oct. of 1949 through Dec. 24, 1957. The attorneys charged that during the period they had been paid only $26,000 by Lias, with unpaid fees amounting to $90,100. The suit was filed on March 17, 1958.

Dismissal of the suit followed the death of Barnes. The National Savings and Trust Co. of Washington was substituted as plaintiff because the institution had been appointed executor of the estate of the deceased attorney.

The state of Oregon, with the greatest U. S. reserve of standing timber, has a billion-dollar forestry industry. Its salmon fishing industry, centered at Astoria at the mouth of the Columbia River, is one of the world's biggest.

'Purity' To Be Subject Of Adventist Minister

Pastor Elmon H. Roy will speak on "Purity" at the 11:30 service Saturday morning in the Seventh-day Adventist Church. Robert Metcalfe will be in charge of special music.

The funds will help build a clinic in Kingston, Jamaica, a medical center in Caracas, Venezuela, and to expand a seminary in Haiti.

The topic for prayer service Friday at 8 p. m. will be "The Gift of Prophecy." The Pathfinder Club will meet Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

What The Vote Means

The decreased majority by which the United States won this year's fight to keep Communist China out of the United Nations can be expected to inspire new demands, both international and domestic, for a reversal of the American stand.

But the vote also emphasizes the divisive—sometimes bitterly so — influence of the Peiping regime and its actions on the world scene. This is the side of the question that needs close scrutiny.

The split among the sovereign states does not even conform to the traditional East-West line. Many U.S. allies have recognized Red China diplomatically, usually for business reasons. Yet several nations that have granted recognition have consistently voted against granting Mao Tse-tung a voice in the U.N.

The U.S. itself has never said its policy on the matter is permanent and unalterable. On the contrary, Secretary of States Dulles has said repeatedly he can foresee the day when Washington will yield. But the conditions he attaches to such a switch are clearly designed to remind the world of Peping's continuing contempt for every effort at peaceful solutions of international problems.

His primary argument before the General Assembly this year, for instance, was that the charter of the U.N. stipulates that member nations must be "peace-loving." Certainly he did not mean to overlook the fact that other members of the world body have offered little indication they are true promoters of peace. He did mean to remind his colleagues that Red China alone has openly warred against the U.N. and that Red China alone has sought to gain entrance to the Assembly and the Security Council by using guns.

He perhaps meant also to call attention to the fact that other Communist bloc nations have been admitted to the U.N. with American sanction, but always on a compromise basis, never by shooting or bullying tactics.

The significance of the vote, therefore, does not lie in a five per cent drop from last year in the majority or in the fact the U.S. did most of the debating against admission.

The significance lies in the fact that evidence of bad faith by the Peiping regime so far outweighs the pressures of diplomatic recognition, economic necessity or de facto occupation that more than half of the world's nations represented in the U.N. supported the American view that Red China is not yet worthy of a seat among them.

The Voters Remain Complacent

Early this year when the American Heritage Foundation launched a national, non-political publicity campaign to get every voter to contribute a dollar or more to the party of his choice there were great hopes that Americans would be shaken out of their complacency at the polls.

The foundation went to work with zest on the project. There have been more than 900 newspaper and magazine advertising programs, 593 national TV shows on 104 programs, 3,300 spot radio announcements and 60,000 car cards.

Both political parties took up the plan and tied their own version of the idea to their own campaigns.

Democrats are taking four days—Friday through Monday—this weekend to concentrate on what they call "Dollar$ for Democrats$" campaign. The GOP collection which ends on President Eisenhower's 68th birthday anniversary, Oct. 14, is called "Neighbor-to-Neighbor" drive.

The principal ideal of all this activity is to get political giving out of the old rut in which 90 per cent of the money has come from the 1 per cent of the voters who customarily underwrite the political campaigns.

The national party chairmen, Meade Alcorn of the Republicans and Paul Butler of the Democrats, are so enthusiastic about the campaign that they have appeared on the same TV program to promote it. It was a political phenomena of political opposites seeing eye to eye but, of course, hoping the major advantage will accrue to their particular party.

Every time a dollar is collected, it adds another name to the party rolls, but it also stimulates active interest in politics, which many Americans sadly lack except as free loaders.

The foundation's "don't pass the buck, but give a buck" campaign comes to a climax at the end of this month. It is still far too early to assess its value as a vote-getting, fund-raising project but to date indications are not encouraging.

Report to GOP headquarters indicate 25 states are taking an active part, 11 other states are passively interested and 13 states—principally in the South—haven't been heard from.

There are six weeks remaing until election day and much can happen in that time to change the picture but at this point it appears that American voters are just not conditioned to "putting their money where their mouths are," in politics.

One Slate In Leningrad

Election of class officers and Student Council representatives at district high schools the past few weeks points up an aspect of the education program which most critics of the school system fail to grasp.

American schooling is the outgrowth of the nation's belief in education as the means of training individuals not only for a specific occupation but for adult roles as intelligent citizens.

Granted there are weaknesses in the education program, just as there are faults in the political system of democratic government. But in the overall analysis of both, the present plan — which includes means of self-improvement — is the best.

These student leaders find themselves learning responsibilities to themselves, their classmates and the school. The members of the class come to realize the workings of democratic process about which they have only read and studied.

We aren't graduating the number of engineers and technicians the Russians are, and perhaps we should be devoting more time, attention and money to the fields of science.

But in the meanwhile, we are graduating educated young people who will fit themselves into the free pattern of living and self-government of our nation, instead of being trained for government-selected roles of autocracy.

Had they held class elections in Leningrad last week, there would have been only one slate on which to vote!

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Russia is publishing its first "Who's Who." You can find in it any prominent Soviet who hasn't been purged, tapped for a voluntary confession or shot.

It is no book to pick up if you want data on a man who once admitted there are two sides to every question. (Can listing of any Russian be good for more than 30 days and what happens to a man who is arrested for reading the original copies?)

Selecting of Russians admitted to the Iron Curtain "Who's Who" must have caused loud arguments, with everybody nervous when Khrushchev found a name and asked, "Who passed this fellow?"

Book should carry at the end this notice: The names printed in this volume were okayed after many a battle. Some deletions were ordered but printer said they came too late. He is now in the salt mines.

If any Russian listed in this "Who's Who" as important is now in Siberia, excuse it as a typographical error.

Molotov, Vycheslav: Student of life in Outer Mongolia. Spent period of career in government of Soviet Union but everybody makes mistakes. Clubs: Down and Out, Exiles and the Downgrade. Author of "Yesterdays I Like To Remember" and "Today's I Like to Forget."

Zhukov, Georgi: Retired soldier. Best known as an official, who, absent from Moscow ten days, forgot to fasten belt when plane came home for landing. Once wrote letters to Eisenhower. What better excuse do you want for this brief mention?

Malenkov (First name forgotten): Power plant official, now busy investigating causes of his own dimout, power loss and short circuiting. Clubs: Ex-Premiers' and Current Missing Persons.

Kerenski, Aleksander Feodorovich. (Late scratch in early revolution. His mention in this volume is being investigated and it can go hard with publisher.)

First man to build harvesting machine, power lawnmower, suspension bridge, eyeglass type hearing-aid and electric horse clipper. Author of "Pilgrims' Progress," "Macbeth," "Huckleberry Finniskov" and "The House of Seven Gromykos." Discoverer of theory of gravitation and tutor of Professor Einstein.

BY AN AGREEMENT with the employer a New York union pays for dental insurance for workers. Capital and labor co-operating in the "Open Wider" idea? This is a good thing. A toothache can slow up any worker. Thousands of men and women who don't seem to be giving their best to the job might need nothing but front teeth "braces."

A drug tycoon was ordered to pay $625 a week to his wife. This was a bitter pill, no doubt. It proved once more that it is possible to get everything at a drugstore.

The National Park Service is asked to establish waterfront restaurant and marine museum on the site which for generations held the famous Castle Garden and Aquarium in Battery Park, N.Y. The bleak ruins of structure is now an eye sore. But Bob Moses opposes change, saying ancient structure "is mixed up in confused minds with the nostalgic images of Jenny Lind, immigrants and fish." Is Mr. Moses against Jenny, immigrants and fish? It seems to this writer that such images are not bad considering the countless places on Manhattan Island which create images of Boss Tweed, Dick Croker, native gangsters and assorted scandals in which fish had no part.

Sen. McClellan was throwing a fast curve to the Bar Association, when, in excoriation of Jimmy Hoffa, he declared, "He has always around him, for the protection of himself and his hoodlum friends, a staff of highly paid attorneys costing the union hundreds of thousands of dollars per year."

Great Sport While The Air Holds Out

John L. Plans Coal Campaign

By Victor Riesel

John L. Lewis' own September song is in the air. He is through playing a waiting game. Cold weather is coming. There's a war crisis. Business is better. Autos will need more steel. The big mills will burn more coal. So John L. has been on the telephone with the mine operators.

Victor Riesel

He's told them what he wants for his coal diggers. He has insinuated that he wants it on the dotted line by Oct. 1. That means Old King Coal, a very merry soul these days, has been talking strike.

The old master is nearing 79 and is healthier than the creaking coal industry. So is his still powerful United Mine Workers Union, independent — very independent indeed.

John L., who still would love to sit in the United Nations jousting with pygmies named Gromyko, has worked hard during his isolation. Much of his time has been spent in a little room off his big top floor office in the Miners' Building in Washington.

ITS WALLS are covered with statistical charts of the industry. On these he places pins, taking time out to talk with visitors and put needles into other labor leaders.

Those charts have enabled Lewis to learn more about coal than any group of researchers.

This, in turn, has helped him keep his union prosperous despite the disappearance of some 60,000 jobs and the appearance of part-time work which has reduced to 250,000 the number of miners working a full week.

Lewis ministers to them and the jobless through his welfare fund. This has an astounding unexpended balance of $145,832,000. He's a shrewd enough banker to have some 40 million dollars of this in government bonds — on which he has made over a million dollars profit.

On these common stocks, he turned a neat dividend profit of almost $200,000. Another $321,000 was made by the fund on cash time-deposits.

Those of us who've been privileged to know the eyebrowed giant, though he's cussed us all out, will never think him old nor be surprised at his financial wizardry.

And when news comes out of the coal fields that John L. is moving again, we expect swift victory — or thunderous dramatics. For John Lewis, as usual, has asked for a big package.

PART OF THAT package has no direct money value. But it has the dramatic Lewis touch. Lewis wants the coal industry itself to wipe out non-union mines. Non-union coal has greatly bothered him for it has hit his union members and their pay.

About 25 to 30 per cent of all America's coal now is from non-union pits. So one of the demands John Lewis has growled into the telephones is for a clause which says, in effect:

No coal company or shipper shall be permitted to sign a union contract if he buys even one lump of coal from a non-union mine. And no mine operator shall be permitted to sign if he processes a piece of non-union coal — as so many operators do.

Furthermore, John L. says, if a union mine operator or shipper is discovered handling non-union coal from nearby pits, in violation of the contract that man would be responsible for the payment of union wages in the non-union mine. And also for payment of a royalty, for each ton of coal dug, to the United Mine Workers.

THIS ROYALTY now gives the union 40 cents per ton. In the new contract, John L. wants 50 cents a ton for his welfare fund. This would give Lewis's fund 35 million dollars more a year.

But that's not all. He's asking a $25-a-day minimum for machine operators. And $1.20-a-day pay increase for coal diggers.

Lewis wants to shave the length of the day by a quarter of an hour. The biggest mine owners have been meeting and screaming but John L. is winning by lowering his voice.

And he still has an ace in the coal hole. He can pull his men out of some mines if need be. This winter he is in a most strategic position.

Nor is Lewis unaware of the coming election campaign. Nor has he failed to keep informed of every move inside the White House. The miners' chief is an old hand at harassing harrassed presidents of the United States. John L. knows that his special brand of crisis must force the White House to pressure the coal owners into concessions. Especially at the political end of a political year.

Even if there is a coal shortage, it could be a hot winter for a lot of people.

Priceless Dividends

By O. M. Wiseman

(Editor's Note: Some of T. T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him again this year. Today's essayist is a former schoolteacher and administrator who now is a city manager.)

The school bell has reminded me that summer vacation is over. Another year has passed. Strange that vacations grow shorter, even the years, as time picks up acceleration on the downhill grade of life.

It was just 35 years ago that I started out to teach my first school. It seemed that all the boys were much larger than I physically, but I hoped not mentally. Many times I was mistaken for one of the students, which didn't help my college-bred ego.

On a few occasions, I even played with the team I was coaching. Eligibility rules were not so strict in those days. Ah, the importance of those early triumphs on diamond, court and gridiron. There still lingers the memory of a blue-and-gold trophy, won in the final seconds of a hard-fought basketball game to provide a school's first trophy. Today the case bulges with other trophies, but none seems more distinctive than that first one.

But memories are not always so carefree. The awesome realization of unexpected tragedy burned deep into the life of this teacher. The sudden death of the beloved athletic coach; the stubborn, courageous determination of the senior girl stricken with T. B. to live just long enough to graduate with her class; the long-awaited Boy Scout uniforms which arrived just in time to furnish a shroud for one of the Troop; yes, these provided the soul scars which never quite healed through all the years.

But there were moments of the deepest pleasure and satisfaction as I witnessed individual triumphs of pupils who rose above their challenging environments to claim great personal victories.

I'll never quite forget the day a little one-armed seventh grader pitched a "no-hitter" in an intramural soft ball game, and thereby with the restoration of confidence, opened up the door of success to a little, discouraged, handicapped boy. Today that same boy is a proud independent, college-trained band instructor.

Then there was the story of the senior girl, who in a moment of unrestrained envy for nice things she couldn't afford, slashed several high-priced winter coats belonging to her classmates. How she realized the seriousness of her act and how she found herself by making full atonement for it was a victory over self which won for her the admiration of all her teachers and classmates.

Then there were the depression years when communities banded together to make apple butter for free lunches long before the government ever thought of them. Next came the war years when graduating seniors traded the traditional caps and gowns for military garb. Of such stuff are communities made.

Yes, the memories of a teacher live on long after the closing bell has rung. It is something akin to the unnatural stillness of a deserted hall in the school building the day after graduation, with the realization that the happy voices and the patter of the footsteps of a certain beloved group have passed beyond recall. The very thought of it leaves a little lump in Teacher's throat.

But deep inside there still survives a comforting sense of pride that comes with the success of any of his beloved pupils. Perhaps he did play a minor part therein. It is part of the compensation that was not included in the pay check for services rendered, but still pays priceless dividends.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Former pastors of the Second Christian Church spoke at homecoming services in the church.

The first meeting of the Travelers Club was held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Smith Jr. of Pyramus St., Chester, with Miss Alta Flowers as co-hostess.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Opening the fall and winter season, members of the Travelers Club met at Mary Patterson Memorial with Mrs. John H. Morton as hostess.

Marking the 87th anniversary of the beginning of the Rebekah Lodge, 175 members of District 35 of the Ohio Rebekah Assembly met with the Ceramic Rebekah Lodge 286 in the Odd Fellows Temple.

Sixty boys and girls registered for Chester bicycle court, Mayor John S. Duffy announced.

TEN YEARS AGO—A proposed health education program in the schools was discussed at the meeting of the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Organizations.

Mrs. Mark Abrams was elected president of the Immaculate Conception Parent-Teacher Association during its annual meeting in the school hall at Wellsville.

Wall street was so named because it was adjacent to a wall built at the northern boundary of early New York City. The wall was designed to keep cattle in—and Indians out.

A Novel Solution

By David Lawrence

Judge Proposes Interpretive Court

Judge Norman F. Arterburn of the Supreme Court of Indiana has come forward with a novel solution to the controversy that has arisen as a result of recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

David Lawrence

The Indiana jurist, who has served a term as chief justice under the rotating system in Indiana, was responsible for the resolution, presented a year ago at the Conference of State Chief Justices, which resulted in a comprehensive report approved last month by 36 of the State Chief Justices, criticizing decisions of the nation's highest court. He recommends now that there should be a new court set up by Constitutional Amendment which would be known as the "court of constitutional definition."

In a letter to this correspondent, Judge Arterburn presents a plan which, if it had been in effect in 1954, would have prevented the present dispute on the legalities of the segregation-integration question from developing at all. His letter makes no mention of this issue but is confined solely to recent reversals of its own rulings by the Supreme Court of the United States in cases concerning federal-state relationships.

"NOT ONLY lawyers, but thinking laymen all over the nation," writes Judge Arterburn, "are disturbed by the tendency to regard the individual philosophy of the judges of the United States Supreme Court as the 'law of the land' and a substitute for stable and fixed principles of construction and interpretation of the Constitution.

"When long-established decisions and precedent are overturned, we lawyers and judges find ourselves in an uncharted sea with nothing to guide us, subject to the vagaries of a dislocated compass.

"The framers of our Constitution did not conceive of the organic structure of our government as a piece of putty that could be molded and shaped as times changed until it no longer resembled the original framework.

"They felt they were building a structure of solid permanency with the opportunity to remodel or make additions through the amending clause only.

"There has, however, developed in this country a legal theory that the Constitution should be stretched to meet any contingency resulting from changes in economic and social progress. Those groups use the catch-phrases and cliches of a 'living instrument,' 'growing with the times.'

"The framers of the Constitution would have made provisions for such 'stretching' if they had intended the Constitution to be altered other than through the amending clause.

"THE UNITED STATES Constitution does say the 'Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be found thereby.

"It does not say the decisions of the United States Supreme Court on such questions shall be the supreme law of the land. The exercise of such a power is one usurped by the court and, in effect, gives to the judiciary a veto power over the acts and functions of all other departments and agencies of the government.

"Although the right to be the final arbiter of what the Constitution means, is without any expressed grant in the Constitution, it is, nevertheless, a constitutional principle now so firmly imbedded in our legal and political thinking that its permanency cannot at this time be seriously questioned, regardless of its merits."

"I do not mean to intimate that I feel the principle should be eliminated or is without merit. My comment is that it is time that we gave consideration to the means and methods by which the perversion of this principle may be properly checked and held within reasonable bounds.

"A decision of the Supreme Court which for the first time defines and interprets the Constitution becomes for all purposes a part of the Constitution as if written therein.

"ANY ATTEMPT to change such a meaning by the United States Supreme Court thereafter has the same effect as amending the Constitution although not done in the method and manner provided in the Constitution.

"I contend that the United States Supreme Court has usurped a right to amend the Constitution by changing its established interpretation and this is done in violation of the constitutional provision for amending the same set up for the protection of the states and the citizens thereof.

Judge Arterburn feels that the membership of such a new court should consist of a judge or former judge of a United States court, a member or former member of Congress, a governor or former governor of a state, a judge or former judge of the highest court of appellate jurisdiction of a state and one person who, within 10 years, has not held any office in the federal or any state government and who would be chosen by a majority vote of the other members and be made chief justice of the court.

The assumption is that this would afford an opportunity for a person of outstanding legal ability to be chosen. The procedure would be that, when a question of interpretation or meaning of the Constitution arose, the "court of constitutional definition" would determine the proper meaning and certify its opinion to the United States Supreme Court, which would then incorporate the opinion within its own ruling and decide the case in accordance with the interpretation given by the special court.

The Political Outlook

By Raymond Moley

This commentator has always been hesitant about predicting the results of elections. There are a number of good reasons for this. In the first place, he conceives of his job as saying what he thinks ought to happen rather than what will happen. Since he is privileged to sign his material as opinion, he realizes how much he wants things to happen and, therefore, that his judgment may be mingled with wishful thinking.

There is also the very practical fact that prophecy involves so many incalculable and unknowable factors that it is exceedingly dangerous and likely to be misleading. I want neither to mislead nor to discredit myself. The crystal ball is a time bomb.

BUT HERE and now, with the proviso that before election the outlook might change, after talking with a good many competent observers, I find that it is a safe chance that the Republican party stands to lose about six Senate and 30 House seats in the forthcoming election. That is a defeat of very considerable proportions.

As these observers see it, as far as the Senate contests are concerned, Maine is lost, and Michigan; Knight in California looks bad (I believe he will run behind Knowland); New Jersey likewise seems precarious; Hogan with a big New York City vote stands to win. West Virginia, electing two senators, will split, and Alaska will split. The chances are even in Connecticut and Wyoming.

There will be hard fighting in Utah, Arizona, and Pennsylvania but the Republican candidates have the edge. No one seems to have a guess about Nevada. There is a good chance of a Republican beating Proxmire in Wisconsin.

So far as the House is concerned, the estimate of losses I mention above takes account of the great number of retirements of conservative Republican members and other factors of a more general character.

I cannot believe that the general economic situation is the predominant reason for Republican distress.

THE EFFECT of the recession was not general, nor was it especially hard on workers except in selected industries.

Savings and the standard of living were not greatly imparied.

It certainly was not, despite the exploitation of the issue by politicians, something to cause a national voting trend.

Much of the trouble for the Republican party came from within itself. Modern Republicanism, exploited by a few amateurs around an amateur President, hurt very considerably.

It chilled the enthusiasm of thousands of Republican regulars over the country and turned candidates away from dependence upon the President's prestige and record to a personal fight for survival at the polls.

The Adams mess was, to say the least, highly embarrassing to a party elected to elevate standards of public conduct.

Generally, it can be recorded with some sadness by Republicans that while the Republican party could survive many defeats at the polls, it has suffered more by two presidential victories.

Unity and revival will have to wait until the election this year is over and faces are turned to 1960.

One Slate In Leningrad

Election of class officers and Student Council representatives at district high schools the past few weeks points up an aspect of the education program which most critics of the school system fail to grasp.

American schooling is the outgrowth of the nation's belief in education as the means of training individuals not only for a specific occupation but for adult roles as intelligent citizens.

Granted there are weaknesses in the education program, just as there are faults in the political system of democratic government. But in the overall analysis of both, the present plan — which includes means of self-improvement — is the best.

These student leaders find themselves learning responsibilities to themselves, their classmates and the school. The members of the class come to realize the workings of democratic process about which they have only read and studied.

We aren't graduating the number of engineers and technicians the Russians are, and perhaps we should be devoting more time, attention and money to the fields of science.

But in the meanwhile, we are graduating educated young people who will fit themselves into the free pattern of living and self-government of our nation, instead of being trained for government-selected roles of autocracy.

Had they held class elections in Leningrad last week, there would have been only one slate on which to vote!

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Russia is publishing its first "Who's Who." You can find in it any prominent Soviet who hasn't been purged, tapped for a voluntary confession or shot.

It is no book to pick up if you want data on a man who once admitted there are two sides to every question. (Can listing of any Russian be good for more than 30 days and what happens to a man who is arrested for reading the original copies?)

Selecting of Russians admitted to the Iron Curtain "Who's Who" must have caused loud arguments, with everybody nervous when Khrushchev found a name and asked, "Who passed this fellow?"

Book should carry at the end this notice: The names printed in this volume were okayed after many a battle. Some deletions were ordered but printer said they came too late. He is now in the salt mines.

If any Russian listed in this "Who's Who" as important is now in Siberia, excuse it as a typographical error.

Molotov, Vycheslav: Student of life in Outer Mongolia. Spent period of career in government of Soviet Union but everybody makes mistakes. Clubs: Down and Out, Exiles and the Downgrade. Author of "Yesterdays I Like To Remember" and "Today's I Like to Forget."

Zhukov, Georgi: Retired soldier. Best known as an official, who, absent from Moscow ten days, forgot to fasten belt when plane came home for landing. Once wrote letters to Eisenhower. What better excuse do you want for this brief mention?

Malenkov (First name forgotten): Power plant official, now busy investigating causes of his own dimout, power loss and short circuiting. Clubs: Ex-Premiers' and Current Missing Persons.

Kerenski, Aleksander Feodorovich. (Late scratch in early revolution. His mention in this volume is being investigated and it can go hard with publisher.)

First man to build harvesting machine, power lawnmower, suspension bridge, eyeglass type hearing-aid and electric horse clipper. Author of "Pilgrims' Progress," "Macbeth," "Huckleberry Finniskov" and "The House of Seven Gromykos." Discoverer of theory of gravitation and tutor of Professor Einstein.

BY AN AGREEMENT with the employer a New York union pays for dental insurance for workers. Capital and labor co-operating in the "Open Wider" idea? This is a good thing. A toothache can slow up any worker. Thousands of men and women who don't seem to be giving their best to the job might need nothing but front teeth "braces."

A drug tycoon was ordered to pay $625 a week to his wife. This was a bitter pill, no doubt. It proved once more that it is possible to get everything at a drugstore.

The National Park Service is asked to establish waterfront restaurant and marine museum on the site which for generations held the famous Castle Garden and Aquarium in Battery Park, N.Y. The bleak ruins of structure is now an eye sore. But Bob Moses opposes change, saying ancient structure "is mixed up in confused minds with the nostalgic images of Jenny Lind, immigrants and fish." Is Mr. Moses against Jenny, immigrants and fish? It seems to this writer that such images are not bad considering the countless places on Manhattan Island which create images of Boss Tweed, Dick Croker, native gangsters and assorted scandals in which fish had no part.

Sen. McClellan was throwing a fast curve to the Bar Association, when, in excoriation of Jimmy Hoffa, he declared, "He has always around him, for the protection of himself and his hoodlum friends, a staff of highly paid attorneys costing the union hundreds of thousands of dollars per year."

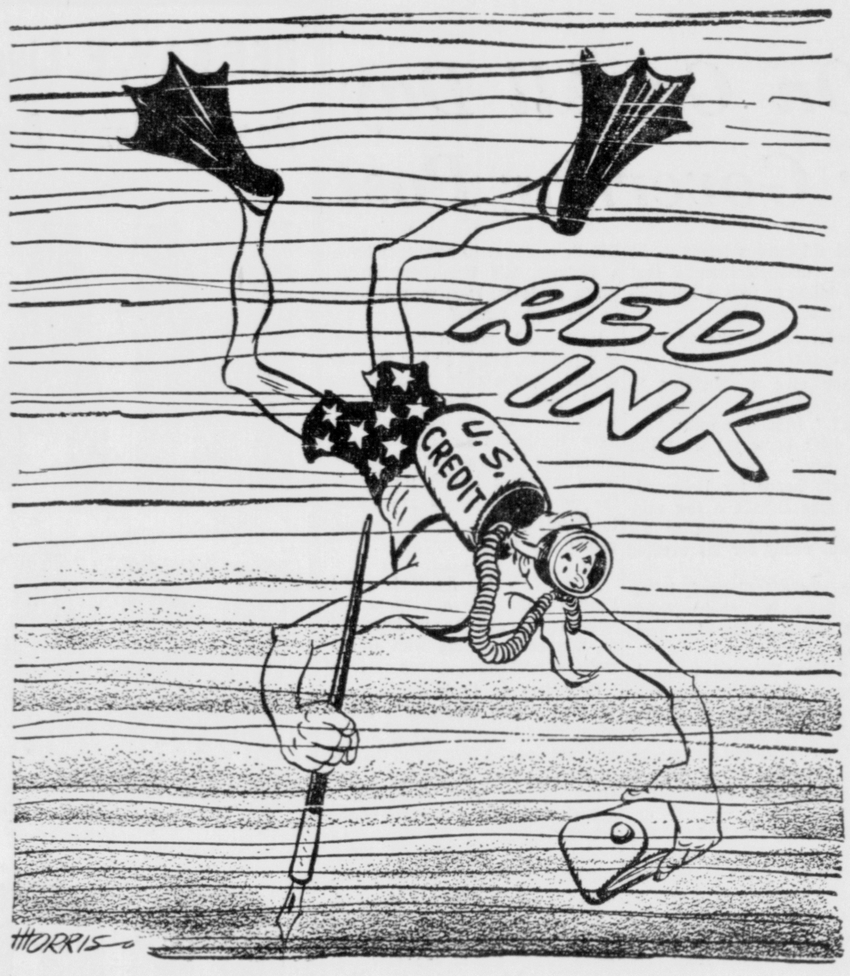
Great Sport While The Air Holds Out



John L. Plans Coal Campaign

By Victor Riesel

John L. Lewis' own September song is in the air. He is through playing a waiting game. Cold weather is coming. There's a war crisis. Business is better. Autos will need more steel. The big mills will burn more coal. So John L. has been on the telephone with the mine operators.

Victor Riesel

He's told them what he wants for his coal diggers. He has insinuated that he wants it on the dotted line by Oct. 1. That means Old King Coal, a very merry soul these days, has been talking strike.

The old master is nearing 79 and is healthier than the creaking coal industry. So is his still powerful United Mine Workers Union, independent — very independent indeed.

John L., who still would love to sit in the United Nations jousting with pygmies named Gromyko, has worked hard during his isolation. Much of his time has been spent in a little room off his big top floor office in the Miners' Building in Washington.

ITS WALLS are covered with statistical charts of the industry. On these he places pins, taking time out to talk with visitors and put needles into other labor leaders.

Those charts have enabled Lewis to learn more about coal than any group of researchers.

This, in turn, has helped him keep his union prosperous despite the disappearance of some 60,000 jobs and the appearance of part-time work which has reduced to 250,000 the number of miners working a full week.

Lewis ministers to them and the jobless through his welfare fund. This has an astounding unexpended balance of $145,832,000. He's a shrewd enough banker to have some 40 million dollars of this in government bonds — on which he has made over a million dollars profit.

On these common stocks, he turned a neat dividend profit of almost $200,000. Another $321,000 was made by the fund on cash time-deposits.

Those of us who've been privileged to know the eyebrowed giant, though he's cussed us all out, will never think him old nor be surprised at his financial wizardry.

And when news comes out of the coal fields that John L. is moving again, we expect swift victory — or thunderous dramatics. For John Lewis, as usual, has asked for a big package.

PART OF THAT package has no direct money value. But it has the dramatic Lewis touch. Lewis wants the coal industry itself to wipe out non-union mines. Non-union coal has greatly bothered him for it has hit his union members and their pay.

About 25 to 30 per cent of all America's coal now is from non-union pits. So one of the demands John Lewis has growled into the telephones is for a clause which says, in effect:

No coal company or shipper shall be permitted to sign a union contract if he buys even one lump of coal from a non-union mine. And no mine operator shall be permitted to sign if he processes a piece of non-union coal — as so many operators do.

Furthermore, John L. says, if a union mine operator or shipper is discovered handling non-union coal from nearby pits, in violation of the contract that man would be responsible for the payment of union wages in the non-union mine. And also for payment of a royalty, for each ton of coal dug, to the United Mine Workers.

THIS ROYALTY now gives the union 40 cents per ton. In the new contract, John L. wants 50 cents a ton for his welfare fund. This would give Lewis's fund 35 million dollars more a year.

But that's not all. He's asking a $25-a-day minimum for machine operators. And $1.20-a-day pay increase for coal diggers.

Lewis wants to shave the length of the day by a quarter of an hour. The biggest mine owners have been meeting and screaming but John L. is winning by lowering his voice.

And he still has an ace in the coal hole. He can pull his men out of some mines if need be. This winter he is in a most strategic position.

Nor is Lewis unaware of the coming election campaign. Nor has he failed to keep informed of every move inside the White House. The miners' chief is an old hand at harassing harrassed presidents of the United States. John L. knows that his special brand of crisis must force the White House to pressure the coal owners into concessions. Especially at the political end of a political year.

Even if there is a coal shortage, it could be a hot winter for a lot of people.

Priceless Dividends

By O. M. Wiseman

(Editor's Note: Some of T. T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him again this year. Today's essayist is a former schoolteacher and administrator who now is a city manager.)

The school bell has reminded me that summer vacation is over. Another year has passed. Strange that vacations grow shorter, even the years, as time picks up acceleration on the downhill grade of life.

It was just 35 years ago that I started out to teach my first school. It seemed that all the boys were much larger than I physically, but I hoped not mentally. Many times I was mistaken for one of the students, which didn't help my college-bred ego.

On a few occasions, I even played with the team I was coaching. Eligibility rules were not so strict in those days. Ah, the importance of those early triumphs on diamond, court and gridiron. There still lingers the memory of a blue-and-gold trophy, won in the final seconds of a hard-fought basketball game to provide a school's first trophy. Today the case bulges with other trophies, but none seems more distinctive than that first one.

But memories are not always so carefree. The awesome realization of unexpected tragedy burned deep into the life of this teacher. The sudden death of the beloved athletic coach; the stubborn, courageous determination of the senior girl stricken with T. B. to live just long enough to graduate with her class; the long-awaited Boy Scout uniforms which arrived just in time to furnish a shroud for one of the Troop; yes, these provided the soul scars which never quite healed through all the years.

But there were moments of the deepest pleasure and satisfaction as I witnessed individual triumphs of pupils who rose above their challenging environments to claim great personal victories.

I'll never quite forget the day a little one-armed seventh grader pitched a "no-hitter" in an intramural soft ball game, and thereby with the restoration of confidence, opened up the door of success to a little, discouraged, handicapped boy. Today that same boy is a proud independent, college-trained band instructor.

Then there was the story of the senior girl, who in a moment of unrestrained envy for nice things she couldn't afford, slashed several high-priced winter coats belonging to her classmates. How she realized the seriousness of her act and how she found herself by making full atonement for it was a victory over self which won for her the admiration of all her teachers and classmates.

Then there were the depression years when communities banded together to make apple butter for free lunches long before the government ever thought of them. Next came the war years when graduating seniors traded the traditional caps and gowns for military garb. Of such stuff are communities made.

Yes, the memories of a teacher live on long after the closing bell has rung. It is something akin to the unnatural stillness of a deserted hall in the school building the day after graduation, with the realization that the happy voices and the patter of the footsteps of a certain beloved group have passed beyond recall. The very thought of it leaves a little lump in Teacher's throat.

But deep inside there still survives a comforting sense of pride that comes with the success of any of his beloved pupils. Perhaps he did play a minor part therein. It is part of the compensation that was not included in the pay check for services rendered, but still pays priceless dividends.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

The first meeting of the Travelers Club was held at the home of Mrs. E. L. Smith Jr. of Pyramus St., Chester, with Miss Alta Flowers as co-hostess.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Opening the fall and winter season, members of the Travelers Club met at Mary Patterson Memorial with Mrs. John H. Morton as hostess.

Marking the 87th anniversary of the beginning of the Rebekah Lodge, 175 members of District 35 of the Ohio Rebekah Assembly met with the Ceramic Rebekah Lodge 286 in the Odd Fellows Temple.

Sixty boys and girls registered for Chester bicycle court, Mayor John S. Duffy announced.

TEN YEARS AGO—A proposed health education program in the schools was discussed at the meeting of the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Organizations.

Mrs. Mark Abrams was elected president of the Immaculate Conception Parent-Teacher Association during its annual meeting in the school hall at Wellsville.

Wall street was so named because it was adjacent to a wall built at the northern boundary of early New York City. The wall was designed to keep cattle in—and Indians out.

A Novel Solution

By David Lawrence

Judge Proposes Interpretive Court

Judge Norman F. Arterburn of the Supreme Court of Indiana has come forward with a novel solution to the controversy that has arisen as a result of recent decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

David Lawrence

The Indiana jurist, who has served a term as chief justice under the rotating system in Indiana, was responsible for the resolution, presented a year ago at the Conference of State Chief Justices, which resulted in a comprehensive report approved last month by 36 of the State Chief Justices, criticizing decisions of the nation's highest court. He recommends now that there should be a new court set up by Constitutional Amendment which would be known as the "court of constitutional definition."

In a letter to this correspondent, Judge Arterburn presents a plan which, if it had been in effect in 1954, would have prevented the present dispute on the legalities of the segregation-integration question from developing at all. His letter makes no mention of this issue but is confined solely to recent reversals of its own rulings by the Supreme Court of the United States in cases concerning federal-state relationships.

"NOT ONLY lawyers, but thinking laymen all over the nation," writes Judge Arterburn, "are disturbed by the tendency to regard the individual philosophy of the judges of the United States Supreme Court as the 'law of the land' and a substitute for stable and fixed principles of construction and interpretation of the Constitution.

"When long-established decisions and precedent are overturned, we lawyers and judges find ourselves in an uncharted sea with nothing to guide us, subject to the vagaries of a dislocated compass.

"The framers of our Constitution did not conceive of the organic structure of our government as a piece of putty that could be molded and shaped as times changed until it no longer resembled the original framework.

"They felt they were building a structure of solid permanency with the opportunity to remodel or make additions through the amending clause only.

"There has, however, developed in this country a legal theory that the Constitution should be stretched to meet any contingency resulting from changes in economic and social progress. Those groups use the catch-phrases and cliches of a 'living instrument,' 'growing with the times.'

"The framers of the Constitution would have made provisions for such 'stretching' if they had intended the Constitution to be altered other than through the amending clause.

"THE UNITED STATES Constitution does say the 'Constitution and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof; and all treaties shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be found thereby.

"It does not say the decisions of the United States Supreme Court on such questions shall be the supreme law of the land. The exercise of such a power is one usurped by the court and, in effect, gives to the judiciary a veto power over the acts and functions of all other departments and agencies of the government.

"Although the right to be the final arbiter of what the Constitution means, is without any expressed grant in the Constitution, it is, nevertheless, a constitutional principle now so firmly imbedded in our legal and political thinking that its permanency cannot at this time be seriously questioned, regardless of its merits."

"I do not mean to intimate that I feel the principle should be eliminated or is without merit. My comment is that it is time that we gave consideration to the means and methods by which the perversion of this principle may be properly checked and held within reasonable bounds.

"A decision of the Supreme Court which for the first time defines and interprets the Constitution becomes for all purposes a part of the Constitution as if written therein.

"ANY ATTEMPT to change such a meaning by the United States Supreme Court thereafter has the same effect as amending the Constitution although not done in the method and manner provided in the Constitution.

"I contend that the United States Supreme Court has usurped a right to amend the Constitution by changing its established interpretation and this is done in violation of the constitutional provision for amending the same set up for the protection of the states and the citizens thereof.

Judge Arterburn feels that the membership of such a new court should consist of a judge or former judge of a United States court, a member or former member of Congress, a governor or former governor of a state, a judge or former judge of the highest court of appellate jurisdiction of a state and one person who, within 10 years, has not held any office in the federal or any state government and who would be chosen by a majority vote of the other members and be made chief justice of the court.

The assumption is that this would afford an opportunity for a person of outstanding legal ability to be chosen. The procedure would be that, when a question of interpretation or meaning of the Constitution arose, the "court of constitutional definition" would determine the proper meaning and certify its opinion to the United States Supreme Court, which would then incorporate the opinion within its own ruling and decide the case in accordance with the interpretation given by the special court.

The Political Outlook

By Raymond Moley

This commentator has always been hesitant about predicting the results of elections. There are a number of good reasons for this. In the first place, he conceives of his job as saying what he thinks ought to happen rather than what will happen. Since he is privileged to sign his material as opinion, he realizes how much he wants things to happen and, therefore, that his judgment may be mingled with wishful thinking.

There is also the very practical fact that prophecy involves so many incalculable and unknowable factors that it is exceedingly dangerous and likely to be misleading. I want neither to mislead nor to discredit myself. The crystal ball is a time bomb.

BUT HERE and now, with the proviso that before election the outlook might change, after talking with a good many competent observers, I find that it is a safe chance that the Republican party stands to lose about six Senate and 30 House seats in the forthcoming election. That is a defeat of very considerable proportions.

As these observers see it, as far as the Senate contests are concerned, Maine is lost, and Michigan; Knight in California looks bad (I believe he will run behind Knowland); New Jersey likewise seems precarious; Hogan with a big New York City vote stands to win. West Virginia, electing two senators, will split, and Alaska will split. The chances are even in Connecticut and Wyoming.

There will be hard fighting in Utah, Arizona, and Pennsylvania but the Republican candidates have the edge. No one seems to have a guess about Nevada. There is a good chance of a Republican beating Proxmire in Wisconsin.

Bricker and Handley seem safe in Ohio and Indiana.

So far as the House is concerned, the estimate of losses I mention above takes account of the great number of retirements of conservative Republican members and other factors of a more general character.

I cannot believe that the general economic situation is the predominant reason for Republican distress.

THE EFFECT of the recession was not general, nor was it especially hard on workers except in selected industries.

Savings and the standard of living were not greatly imparied.

It certainly was not, despite the exploitation of the issue by politicians, something to cause a national voting trend.

Much of the trouble for the Republican party came from within itself. Modern Republicanism, exploited by a few amateurs around an amateur President, hurt very considerably.

It chilled the enthusiasm of thousands of Republican regulars over the country and turned candidates away from dependence upon the President's prestige and record to a personal fight for survival at the polls.

The Adams mess was, to say the least, highly embarrassing to a party elected to elevate standards of public conduct.

Generally, it can be recorded with some sadness by Republicans that while the Republican party could survive many defeats at the polls, it has suffered more by two presidential victories.

Unity and revival will have to wait until the election this year is over and faces are turned to 1960.

tion figure is unofficial pending an exact count that will be made in the next week or 10 days when the board compiles new precinct registers — alphabetical lists of all qualified electors. The board generally discovers some duplications that result from the fact that persons who already are legally registered record transfers, he explained.

More will be cut from the rolls when the board removes the names of those who died during September, based on a monthly report from the registrar of vital statistics, O'Hanlon added.

The final net total is expected to stand at about 11,500, he said.

Last night's deadline marked the end of one of the most intensive registration campaigns ever staged by the county board.

Beginning Sept. 13, it maintained a daily 12-hour schedule of continuous office hours that was extended to 13 hours on the final day. In addition, it established registration points in all 32 precincts in a one - day campaign Sept. 16.

Meanwhile, the Election Board is looking forward to the start of issuance of civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots, which will be available starting Oct. 6.

Applications for either type of ballot, regardless of the voters' party affiliation, may be obtained now at the board's office on W. 6th St. However, state law forbids the board to accept a completed application before Oct. 5, which is a Sunday.

To be eligible for an absentee ballot, an elector must be unavoidably absent from Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from his home precinct on election day. Disabled voters' ballots are for persons unable to get to the polls because of their own illness or physical disability. The application must be accompanied by an affidavit from the attending physician.

Issuance of both types of ballots will end at 4 p. m. Oct. 30.

The board already has issued 47 ballots to serve personnel under the Ohio "Soldier Voting" Law. Issuance of the soldier ballots starts 60 days prior to an election. They also are available to civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S.

order to set up a suitable time schedule for 1959, but no action was taken concerning the time change this year.

One Lisbon school official — following a car-school bus collision on Route 30 Monday morning — pointed out the time change would have made no difference concerning the fog that morning, since the fog lifted somewhat then returned later.

Many favoring continuation of the "fast" time point out the extra daylight permits outdoor work and recreation which otherwise would not be available under standard time.

Mayor John Todd of Lisbon and James Lowe of the East Liverpool Board of Education have suggested the schools change to standard time to relieve the fog threat.

Mayor Todd said the move would also reduce the combined school and work traffic at one period of the day, and would lessen the threat.

The Hancock County Education Association recently adopted the recommendation that the county Board of Education return schools to slow time starting, Sunday.

But Hancock County officials at the Courthouse in New Cumberland and those at the Weirton Steel Co. reported that their offices will remain on the present time schedule until Oct. 26.

New Cumberland has officially remained on EST throughout the summer but most residents turned their clocks up an hour for the DST schedule because of Weirton Steel's position which usually sets the time schedule for the county.

Hancock schools will remain on the present DST schedule until a majority of the communities turn their clocks back Oct. 26.

The Beaver County commissioners' office said most localities will remain on Daylight Saving Time until Oct. 26.

Burgess Eli Corak said Midland will remain on fast time through October.

LATEST EQUIPMENT. Providing better service for employes requiring treatment due to accident or illness is this new resuscitator the Crucible Steel Co. has installed in the plant ambulance at the Midland Works. The company said the equipment, shown positioned and open in the ambulance, incorporates the latest advancements for such devices which administer regulated amounts of oxygen to a patient through the face mask hanging on the container's lid.

Woman Given Reward In Parakeet Theft Tip

A $25 reward has been paid to a LaCroft woman after her tip led to the arrest of two boys, 10 and 13, for stealing parakeets from the home of Charles Watkins of 5th Ave., LaCroft, Liverpool Township Constable Wilbert Tayor said today.

The birds, included one pair valued at $125 and considered rare in this area, Taylor said.

The two boys were turned over to juvenile authorities for an appearance before Judge Louis Tobin a week ago, the constable said.

County Medical Group Endorses Health Levy

LISBON—The Columbiana County Medical Society has endorsed the proposed two-tenths mill County Health District levy, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, announced today.

Dr. Palmer said the society backed the issue at its meeting Tuesday night, along with supporting a proposed health department program for a series of pre-natal education conferences for prospective mothers. Details of the program are to be worked out and announced later, he said.

Dr. Palmer declared the health levy is being sought to provide funds needed to supplement the department's revenues, which were reduced by recent rulings preventing carryover funds from previous years.

The money would also be used to improve the department's sanitation program to meet state requirements, he said.

British Reject Bid Of Convicted Atom Spy

LONDON (AP)—British authorities have turned down a bid by convicted atom spy Klaus Fuchs to do scientific work outside prison during the last months of his term.

Fuchs was convicted in 1950 of turning over British - American atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. He was sentenced to 14 years in prison but could be freed as early as next July with time off for good conduct.

tion figure is unofficial pending an exact count that will be made in the next week or 10 days when the board compiles new precinct registers — alphabetical lists of all qualified electors. The board generally discovers some duplications that result from the fact that persons who already are legally registered record transfers, he explained.

More will be cut from the rolls when the board removes the names of those who died during September, based on a monthly report from the registrar of vital statistics, O'Hanlon added.

The final net total is expected to stand at about 11,500, he said.

Last night's deadline marked the end of one of the most intensive registration campaigns ever staged by the county board.

Beginning Sept. 13, it maintained a daily 12-hour schedule of continuous office hours that was extended to 13 hours on the final day. In addition, it established registration points in all 32 precincts in a one - day campaign Sept. 16.

Meanwhile, the Election Board is looking forward to the start of issuance of civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots, which will be available starting Oct. 6.

Applications for either type of ballot, regardless of the voters' party affiliation, may be obtained now at the board's office on W. 6th St. However, state law forbids the board to accept a completed application before Oct. 5, which is a Sunday.

To be eligible for an absentee ballot, an elector must be unavoidably absent from Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from his home precinct on election day. Disabled voters' ballots are for persons unable to get to the polls because of their own illness or physical disability. The application must be accompanied by an affidavit from the attending physician.

Issuance of both types of ballots will end at 4 p. m. Oct. 30.

The board already has issued 47 ballots to serve personnel under the Ohio "Soldier Voting" Law. Issuance of the soldier ballots starts 60 days prior to an election. They also are available to civilians residing temporarily outside the U. S.

order to set up a suitable time schedule for 1959, but no action was taken concerning the time change this year.

One Lisbon school official — following a car-school bus collision on Route 30 Monday morning — pointed out the time change would have made no difference concerning the fog that morning, since the fog lifted somewhat then returned later.

Many favoring continuation of the "fast" time point out the extra daylight permits outdoor work and recreation which otherwise would not be available under standard time.

Mayor John Todd of Lisbon and James Lowe of the East Liverpool Board of Education have suggested the schools change to standard time to relieve the fog threat.

Mayor Todd said the move would also reduce the combined school and work traffic at one period of the day, and would lessen the threat.

The Hancock County Education Association recently adopted the recommendation that the county Board of Education return schools to slow time starting, Sunday.

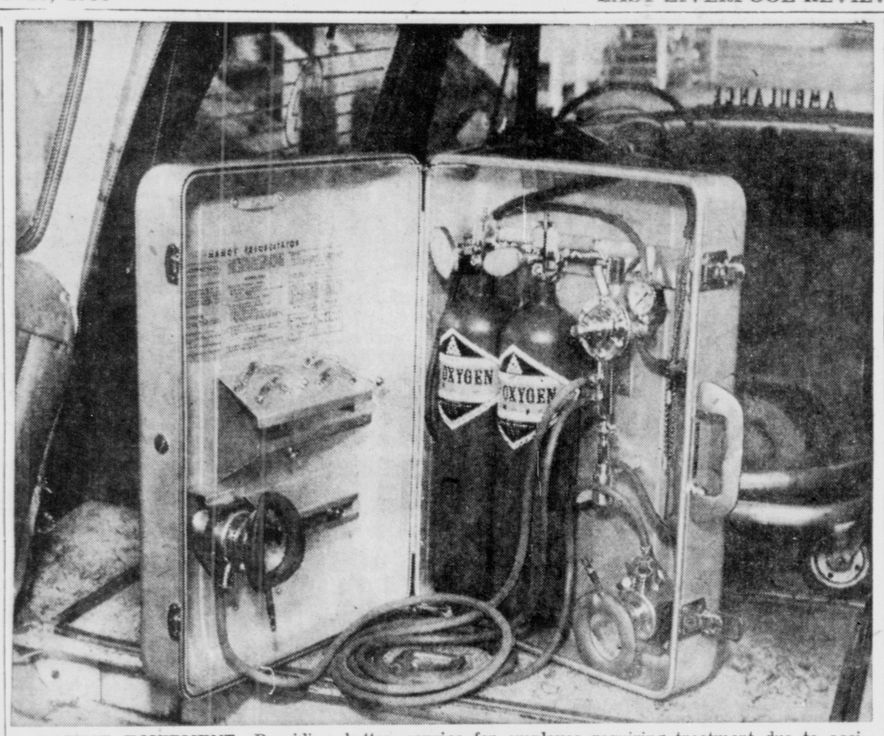
But Hancock County officials at the Courthouse in New Cumberland and those at the Weirton Steel Co. reported that their offices will remain on the present time schedule until Oct. 26.

New Cumberland has officially remained on EST throughout the summer but most residents turned their clocks up an hour for the DST schedule because of Weirton Steel's position which usually sets the time schedule for the county.

Hancock schools will remain on the present DST schedule until a majority of the communities turn their clocks back Oct. 26.

The Beaver County commissioners' office said most localities will remain on Daylight Saving Time until Oct. 26.

Burgess Eli Corak said Midland will remain on fast time through October.



LATEST EQUIPMENT. Providing better service for employes requiring treatment due to accident or illness is this new resuscitator the Crucible Steel Co. has installed in the plant ambulance at the Midland, Works. The company said the equipment, shown positioned and open in the ambulance, incorporates the latest advancements for such devices which administer regulated amounts of oxygen to a patient through the face mask hanging on the container's lid.

Woman Given Reward In Parakeet Theft Tip

A $25 reward has been paid to a LaCroft woman after her tip led to the arrest of two boys, 10 and 13, for stealing parakeets from the home of Charles Watkins of 5th Ave., LaCroft, Liverpool Township Constable Wilbert Tayor said today.

The birds, included one pair valued at $125 and considered rare in this area, Taylor said.

The two boys were turned over to juvenile authorities for an appearance before Judge Louis Tobin a week ago, the constable said.

County Medical Group Endorses Health Levy

LISBON—The Columbiana County Medical Society has endorsed the proposed two-tenths mill County Health District levy, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, announced today.

Dr. Palmer said the society backed the issue at its meeting Tuesday night, along with supporting a proposed health department program for a series of pre-natal education conferences for prospective mothers. Details of the program are to be worked out and announced later, he said.

Dr. Palmer declared the health levy is being sought to provide funds needed to supplement the department's revenues, which were reduced by recent rulings preventing carryover funds from previous years.

The money would also be used to improve the department's sanitation program to meet state requirements, he said.

British Reject Bid Of Convicted Atom Spy

LONDON (AP)—British authorities have turned down a bid by convicted atom spy Klaus Fuchs to do scientific work outside prison during the last months of his term.

Fuchs was convicted in 1950 of turning over British - American atomic secrets to the Soviet Union. He was sentenced to 14 years in prison but could be freed as early as next July with time off for good conduct.

On Quemoy, the chief U.S. military adviser was still worried about getting supplies through the Red artillery blockade, AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported.

A school employe and a Westfield woman also were treated after other falls yesterday.

Mrs. Rebecca Simpson of W. 3rd St. is in "fair" condition with head injuries received in a fall down steps yesterday.

Everett Little, 47, of Boyce Ave., Wellsville, was treated for neck, shoulder and arm injuries received in a fall while at work at the East Liverpool High School, where he is a boiler fireman.

Mrs. Ann Edwards of Westfield received a cut on the eyebrow and abrasions on the arm in a fall down the cellar steps at home.

It's Really A Gigantic Factory

'Beat America!' Is Red Farm Cry

By BEVERLY DEEPE
Written for The Associated Press

They call it a farm. But it isn't. It is really a gigantic factory in which workers are continually hounded to meet American production standards.

More than 18,000 people work on a huge, 32,000-acre factory-farm east of Stalingrad that I visited as a member of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. student exchange program.

Their big objective, the director said, is to have each Russian produce more than the average individual American farmer.

"We have to look at the United States in this field and we have to take them on," he said. "By means of peaceful competition, we want to achieve the level of American agricultural production and then overtake this level."

"But," I asked, "what will you do with the surpluses after overtaking the U.S. farmer?"

The director laughed. "Ask the minister of agriculture," he replied.

Workers live in five haphazard little communities on the farm, mostly in four-room homes of wood or peeling stucco owned by the government. About 10 per cent live in state-owned apartment houses.

Kaskalen is one of the comunities—a listless town where a white stucco Palace of Culture for nightly movies and dances is still under construction. There are no churches.

An Aqua Volga, resembling a 1955 Ford, rolled down the asphalt main street. But just outside the village, small donkey carts carried dusty men over dusty roads.

The state owns the farm and pays the workers' wages. The farm meets the production quotas set by the state and sells any surplus to the state.

Each farmer has three quarters of an acre which the state lets him cultivate as he pleases. Each farmer also has permission to raise a few cattle.

Otherwise, they are the human tools who operate the state's tractors, combines and other machinery for the benefit of the state.

There are 3,500 unskilled workers who cultivate the corn, harvest the grain, hoe the 3,000 acres of garden crops and plant the sugar beets on this one farm. They also tend the dairy cows, goats, horses, pigs—and 300 camels.

The farm has more than 6,000 children who attend various schools and the agricultural institute.

Before leaving, the director took us to the four-room, crumbling stucco home of a farm mechanic—described as "one of the professional people"—and his wife and three daughters.

We entered a reception room where a rubber plant filled about a fourth of the space. There was also a settee covered with white muslin, a chiffonier, a short-wave radio and a vase of artificial flowers.

A rubber doll sat on the cardboard bed in the corner. The walls were decorated by a clock, a barometer and a painting of a watermelon done by the housewife.

The kitchen was about 9 by 15 feet. An aluminum pot was boiling on the single-burner, electric hotplate. There was a white-washed iron stove about four feet high and an enamel sink two feet wide with a single cold water tap.

There was also a low cupboard with peeling wine-colored paint and a worn wine oilcloth. There were no windows.

The parents slept in a single-sized iron bed covered with a lace bedspread and needlepoint pillows. A foot-operated, treadle-type sewing machine stood near the window. Embroidered samplers decorated the walls.

The children's room contained two small beds. Brown and blue bedspreads decorated the walls. And in the corner, I saw a broken mirror.

Residents Of Lisbon Believe It's Friendly, Pleasant Town

LISBON — A friendly attitude of townspeople, the pleasant village surroundings and good schools were listed in an evaluation report compiled by the Junior Chamber of Commerce from questionnaires distributed to village residents recently.

Only 87 returns were received from the 1,000 forms mailed by the Jaycees seeking answers to two questions, "What do you like about Lisbon?" and "What could be done to improve Lisbon?"

In reply to the first question, 22 cited the friendliness of the community. Others commended the number of good churches of all denominations, the tree - lined streets and beautiful public square, good recreational facilities, good schools, well-kept homes in most areas, good businesses and advantageous location of the village.

In reference to improvements, 22 said there is a need to promote new industries. Others sought cleaner streets, repair of sidewalks, better maintenance of business buildings, curbing of speeding, improved garbage collection, better cememtery maintenance, promotion of co-operation of service clubs, better parking facilities, obtaining a community center — possibly the old theater building; repair of the village clock and for observance of holidays with village celebrations.

Members of the Jaycees expressed appreciation for the assistance of civic-minded residents who answered the questionnaire, and said they hope to undertake some improvements in the village, Gene Tolson, president, said.

The Jaycees, a recently formed organization of men between 21 and 35, are currently seeking to build tennis courts, shuffleboard games and horseshoe pits near the VanFossan Swimming Pool as one project.

Common Keys Open New Police Handcuffs

Thirty new pairs of handcuffs were distributed to members of the police department Wednesday by Chief Americo Radeschi, which means for the first time any officer's key will open the cuffs put on a prisoner by any other officer.

The standardization of keys is one of the big benefits behind the purchase, the chief explained. In the past, when equipment was not standardized, one officer's key generally would not unlock another's handcuffs, he said.

The handcuffs were purchased from a Youngstown concern, part of a move to standardize police sidearms and other equipment. Previously, the officers were supplied with a single style of pistol and mace.

Many Counties Set Records In Signup Of Voters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Voter complacency in an off-year election apparently is not prevalent in Ohio. A record number of voters have turned out in some counties to register for the Nov. 4 election.

Registration ended Wednesday in 39 counties having either complete or partial registration. Official figures will not be announced for several weeks but, unofficially, records were broken in many of the counties reporting figures.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicted an all-time high in registrations. He credited the big turnout to interest in the controversial proposed Ohio Constitution amendment regulating labor contracts.

Brown said the official figure will probably be 5 to 10 per cent under the unofficial total. He said the drop is always found because many people forget and register when they are already on the books.

The record registration in 1956—a presidential election year—was 3,137,000.

Only 23 of Ohio's 88 counties have complete registration, another 16 have partial.

Courthouse Incumbents Hit

Democrats Set Platform

Purchasing procedures of Columbiana County commissioners and operations of the county auditor's office were hit by the campaign platform of the county Democrats adopted at a meeting of the county central and executive committees Wednesday night at Lisbon.

The platform strikes at methods used by commissioners to buy county autos, gasoline and tires, and criticizes Auditor I. J. Vorndran for planning to spend $180,000 for a real estate appraisal and for not publishing an annual financial statement.

OTHER PARTS of the platform support pledge support of a surplus food program for needy persons, efforts to seek a greater share of state highway improvements, more "regular hours" in the Common Pleas Court and a broader policy of purchasing items for county use. The platform reads:

"1. We believe the commissioners should accept surplus food for our county's needy. We condemn the present commissioners for not acting on this program, and we pledge — after electing two Democratic commissioners — to put this program into effect.

"2. We believe all automobile dealers should have the right to bid on cars purchased for the county. We do not agree with the present system of the commissioners in asking only a select few dealers to bid. We pledge that if R. Max Gard and Frank Wilson are elected commissioners, all dealers will be asked to bid every time an automobile is to be bought by the county.

"3. WE DO NOT think the county's taxpayers should have to pay $180,000 for a reappraisal of the county's real estate. We feel if the present county auditor would do his own work, he could save the county thousands of dollars. We pledge, with the election of Kenneth Bell as auditor, the appraisal will be handled by the auditor's office and local people will be hired to aid Bell in the appraisal. This will also provide more employment on the local basis.

"4. We also condemn the county auditor for not publishing a financial statement every year. We feel every citizen of Columbiana County has a right to know what condition our county's finances are in. We pledge Mr. Bell will publish a statement annually according to law.

"5. The Democratic party of the county frowns upon the way present commissioners purchase gasoline and tires for county equipment. We do not think only friends of the commissioners should be able to sell to the county, but that every businessman in the county should have the opportunity to bid. We feel thousands of dollars can be saved by taking bids, and we pledge that Mr. Gard and Mr. Wilson, if elected, will purchase items by bid."

"6. IT IS our belief the county is not receiving its fair share of modern highways, considering the county is among the top 15 largest of Ohio's 88 counties. We have only four miles of four-lane highway, and feel our tax dollars are being spent elsewhere. We pledge John F. Kelley will work in the State Legislature to get more modern highways for the county, thus helping attract new industries.

"7. We pledge that Atty. Robert S. Hartford will hold Common Pleas Court sessions from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m., and as a working judge, will help bring the court dockets up to date. We feel the present judge, seeking re-election, is not doing this and our dockets are filling up with court cases.

"8. We pledge Carl L. Stacey will give prompt and efficient service in the title and legal departments five and a half days a week when elected clerk of courts."

About 104 members of the executive and central committees and others attended the session at which the platform, prepared by a platform committee, was adopted.

MRS. KAY Blackburn, county chairwoman, announced the Democratic women of the county will sponsor a campaign dinner Oct. 25 at the Orchard Hill School at Leetonia at which Rep. Edna Kelly of New York will be principal speaker.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District Congressman, and state, district and county candidates will also attend the dinner planned to honor the women voters of the county and observe National Democratic Women's Month.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, said tickets will be $1.75. Ray Tomes of Leetonia is in charge of the family-style dinner.

Plans were also discussed for a "Get-Out-the-Vote" drive. Gosney hailed the registration increase in East Liverpool.

PLANS WERE made for a luncheon at East Liverpool Oct. 11 for Michael DiSalle, candidate for governor, and to attend a dinner honoring Rep. Hays at Bellaire, also Oct. 11.

About 18 plan to attend a dinner at Columbus Oct. 4 at which former President Harry Truman and Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, speaker of the House, will be guest.

Leader Appoints Group To Probe Motor Boat Issue

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Leader today appointed a special six-man committee to investigate a motor boating controversy at Pymatuning Reservoir on the Pennsylvania-Ohio line in Crawford County.

Residents in counties around the northern boundary of the reservoir want boat engine horsepower limits raised, but other persons below Pymatuning Dam oppose the proposal for safety reasons.

The governor pointed out that he vetoed legislation to raise the permissible horsepower in 1957 and a previous administration vetoed similar legislation.

Leader also asked Col. Herbert B. Eagen, director of Ohio natural resources, and Bryce C. Browning, secretary-treasurer of the Muskegon Watershed Conservancy, to represent Ohio.

He asked the committee to study the situation and make recommendations to the next governor and general assembly.

American Medics May Cure New Zealand Girl's Ailment

CINCINNATI (AP) — Eighteen-month-old Vicki Blundell of Wellington, New Zealand, blonde, winsome, but rarely smiling, may yet "get a leg up," thanks to American know-how in treating a rare condition of her right limb that had defied cure in her homeland.

Vicki, daughter of a Wellington newspaperman, William Blundell, and his wife, Anne, was born with her right leg swollen by tumors of the blood and lymph vessels. The enlarged limb kept her from crawling or even moving freely, and drained her strength.

The Blundells flew here a month ago after New Zealand doctors admitted inability to help her, short of amputation, and suggested inquiries abroad.

A decision then was made to enter her in Cincinnati's Children's Hospital.

A plastic surgeon operated once, and 10 days later, operated again. Each time he removed a section of the swollen tissue—and found hope in the presence of muscle an bone "in reasonably good shape."

Repeated blood transfusions also have been part of the treatment—to a point, Blundell quipped "where we're going to have an American citizen on our hands before we leave here."

Doctors say it will be months before it is known how successful the treatment was.

Vicki, meanwhile, lies very still in her hospital crib, her afflicted leg deep within layers of bandage. She smiles a little—a brief, wan little smile—but only after much coaxing.

Driver Forfeits Bond

BPW Campaign Launched For Child Health Clinic

To insure continued medical care for needy pre-school age children in the Tri-State area, the board of the Child Health Clinic, supported by the East Liverpool Business & Professional Women's Club, has launched its annual fund campaign.

Letters will be mailed today to businessmen and individuals in the community, appealing for contributions for operation of the clinic another year.

A goal of $1,500 has been set for the ensuing year.

The letter points out that the contributions enable the club to "alleviate the physical disabilities of children whose parents, unfortunately, must bypass some of the medical needs of their children — not because they want to, but because they must."

Currently there are 68 children receiving medical care.

Enclosed with the letter is a statement showing the disbursements for the fiscal year of April 1, 1957, to March 31, 1958.

The sum of $360.50 was spent for fees for physicians and dentists, $412.29 for hospital care, and $384.18 for prescriptions. In addition, it has cost $92.44 for eye glasses, $79.42 for milk and $42.89 for supplies and miscellaneous expenses, making a total of $1,371.72.

The type of care provided included nine tonsillectomies, one hernia operation, two children receiving dental care and three eye corrections and one foot correction.

Four laboratory tests were provided and two young patients were referred to other physicians for consultations, 53 received immunization shots, 33 polio shots and 12 vaccinations. A total of 25 youngsters were given tuberculosis patch tests.

Some 397 quarts of milk were delivered to homes where children were not getting the required amount and 69 prescriptions were filled to provide necessary medication.

Mrs. May Hartt is chairman of the clinic board and others serving are Mrs. Alice Bair, Mrs. Jane Jolly and Mrs. Mary McCullough. Mrs. Jolly was recently named to the board to replace Mrs. Mary Toland, who died last spring.

Drill Will Whirl Mile And Half In Earth For Gas

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — A spinning drill will bite into Medina County topsoil next Wednesday and whirl its way a mile and a half into the earth in a quest for natural gas.

The probe, deepest thrust geologists have yet made in northern Ohio, will cost $175,000 and take four to six months of 24-hour-a-day drilling. It is part of a natural gas industry program to find new reserves.

Odds are heavily against finding a large supply of gas—only one in 40 wells is profitable. However, the well has scientific import since it is man's first exploration below 6,000 feet in this area.

The well, a mile and a half southeast of Hinckley, was five years in the planning. When completed it will be exceeded in depth only by a 7,887-foot drilling at St. Clairsville in Belmont County, which was completed in 1940.

Firemen To Host Association Event

Plans for future events, including an association session and an auction, were discussed at the meeting of the Liverpool Township, West, volunteer fire department Wednesday night in the LaCroft fire station with William Rogers, president, presiding.

The group will be host to the Tri-State Firemen's Association Saturday night at 7:30.

The auction will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. to raise funds for firemen's projects.

The company voted to donate $125 to the township trustees to help pay for the expense of utilities for the station and two new members were enrolled as second class firemen. They are Charles Marshall and Aaron Fowler.

Chief Ed Emmerling cautioned district residents against using the department's fire phone number for other than emergency calls. Information may be obtained by phoning FU. 5-5564, he said.

The next meeting will be Oct. 8 at 7:30 at the fire hall.

Democrats Set Platform

Purchasing procedures of Columbiana County commissioners and operations of the county auditor's office were hit by the campaign platform of the county Democrats adopted at a meeting of the county central and executive committees Wednesday night at Lisbon.

The platform strikes at methods used by commissioners to buy county autos, gasoline and tires, and criticizes Auditor I. J. Vorndran for planning to spend $180,000 for a real estate appraisal and for not publishing an annual financial statement.

OTHER PARTS of the platform support pledge support of a surplus food program for needy persons, efforts to seek a greater share of state highway improvements, more "regular hours" in the Common Pleas Court and a broader policy of purchasing items for county use. The platform reads:

New Midland Sewer Lines Are Finished

Council Told State Now Must Resurface Excavated 10th St.

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, advised Midland Council Wednesday night installation of new storm sewer sections has been completed on 10th St. and in Lincoln Park near the high school.

He added resurfacing of the excavated part of 10th St. is now up to the state. The street is part of the state road system. Grading of the park, damaged by backed-up water, will be completed by next week, he added.

Work completed includes laying of 60 feet of 42 inch sewer pipe in Lincoln Park from the storm sewer at 10th St. and Beaver Ave. which "blew up" during the heavy rain of July 11. Some 500 feet of sewer was laid on 10th from Beaver to Midland Ave. Storm damages repairs amounted to $4,337.

Steve Germusa, president, said a report of the recent tax discussion will be presented Council at its next meeting Oct. 8.

An informal conference on the loss of machinery tax and both Midland's and the Crucible Steel Co.'s position in the new Beaver County assessment program was held Sept. 17 by councilmen and a representative of the steel firm.

Under the new county tax program effective Jan. 1, machinery is not taxable and Midland property owners may have to pay more taxes.

Council referred to the building committee a request of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Pack of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 to buy a borough-owned lot adjoining property they have acquired in town. Mrs. Pack said there is no way to get to the house except through the borough lot.

Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor, told councilmen the borough can not sell the lot outright but advertise for bids.

Councilman Lester Trainer said parking on Midland Heights Rd. has increased again and that police said they will crack down on violators.

Trainer also reported that the Hi-Spot Youth Center had increased attendance during last year and again this fall. He said Mrs. William Spisak, center director, would appreciate offers of clubs whose members might like to help out, particularly men since there are enough mothers.

Matt Brozic, street foreman, reported that all 25-mile-per-hour signs have been erected on the east end of Midland Ave. which replace higher speed limit signs.

Council approved returning three personal bonds to William Vinovich, former delinquent tax collector, as the 1954-1955 and 1956 tax duplicates have been settled in full.

Towing Of Auto Leads To Arrest Of 2 Drivers

When police discovered one auto towing another early Wednesday night on E. 4th St., the investigation led to the arrest of both drivers.

Ronald L. Whittington, 507 Elm St., who was steering the powerless car, was cited for operating an auto without a driver's license. William R. Flesch, also of 507 Elm St., who was towing the car steered by Whittington, was charged with driving an auto with improper license plates.

Both forfeited $16 bonds today in Municipal Court. Meanwhile, Noah Nichols of Glenmoor was fined $10 and costs today on a charge of operating an auto with improper license plates. He was cited at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday on E. 2nd St.

QUEMOY (AP) — Col. Douglas Lane, chief U.S. military adviser on Quemoy, said today this shell-blasted Nationalist Chinese island fortress is licking a critical supply problem.

"Everyone is still worried about the supply situation, but supplies are getting in," Lane told newsmen.

"Progress is being made every day with every supply mission. There has been a lot of progress, but that does not mean there is not room for much more progress."

How much is being landed by ship or airdropped on the yellow sand beaches was kept secret.

But supplies are being landed almost daily on both this island and Little Quemoy. More than 100 parachutes with supplies attached were sighted two mornings in a row by newsmen this week on one small beach area after successful night drops.

In a separate news conference, Lt. Gen. Ko Yueng-fen, deputy commander of the Nationalist garrison, admitted Quemoy's defenders had to dip into war reserves earlier this month when the Red artillery blockade shut off all imports.

But Ko said the reserves are now being built up again.

Lane, from Maysville, Okla., told reporters the Nationalists under present conditions could turn back any invasion attempt.

Morale of the defenders is excellent and morale of the American advisers could not be better, he said.

Khan Horse Goes Wild On Plane, Destroyed

NEW YORK (AP) — A $25,000 filly sired by Native Dancer and owned by Aly Khan went wild in a cargo plane Wednesday. The horse injured itself so badly it had to be destroyed.

The KLM plane was taking off from Idlewild Airport for Amsterdam when the yearling broke out of a stall. Two grooms were unable to calm the horse, which had no name. The plane stayed on the ground and a veterinarian was called. He destroyed the animal.

Crowley Testifies First Time On Murder Charge In Tokyo

Before a three-judge Japanese court holding a closed session in the Imperial Hotel Suite where Jones died May 8, Crowley showed how he claimed he sprained his left hand in the bathtub.

The swollen hand, noted by police after Jones died, was one factor in Crowley's indictment.

Crowley has pleaded innocent of the charge, which carries a sentence on conviction of 2 to 15 years' imprisonment.

Before the trial moved from the courtroom to the hotel, Frederic M. Kissinger of Brandywine, Md., reiterated testimony that "forces were at work" to indict Crowley for Jones' death.

Kissinger said he had been certain during early investigation that Crowley would not be brought to trial. "I was so certain of it that I asked a man at the embassy to arrange transportation (back to the U.S.) for us," he said.

Kissinger told the court he saw material gathered by the prosecutor's office and "most of it was in favor of Mr. Crowley."

However, he added, a clipping on Crowley from a Bridgeport, Conn., newspaper was sent here and Crowley was later indicted. Kissinger was not asked to elaborate.

Crowley came to Japan with Jones and Kissinger to arrange purchase of an oil tanker for the T. A. D. Jones Co. of New Haven, Conn. Jones, 45, was president, Crowley executive vice president and Kissinger a consulting accountant for the firm. Crowley, 49, is married to Jones' sister.

Bulls, Bears Have Ups And Downs On News Front

By The Associated Press

Bulls and bears—definitely not the stock market variety — had their ups and downs on the news front Wednesday.

At Princeton, Mo., a hopped-up Hereford bull, breaking out of a barn invaded playgrounds of a junior high and an elementary school during recess. At the junior high, about 160 pupils made like rabbits into the schoolhouse. Mrs. Jewel Hagan, a teacher, providing rear guard action, was charged by Mr. Bull. She climbed a fence to safety.

At the elementary school nearby the bull charged Mrs. Jessie Alley, a teacher. She dodged and escaped. It butted 10-year-old Maureen David from a swing, but fell down. Maureen and her classmates fled. Livestock handlers finally corralled the bull.

At Buena Vista, Colo., a big black bear ambled down out of the mountains. After munching on some apples in an orchard, it climbed into a cottonwood tree and relaxed. A crowd gathered.

Game Warden A. C. Jordan tried to coax the bear to come down. Honeyed phrases were no use. The bear wouldn't budge. The townsfolk protested when Jordan figured he'd have to shoot the animal, so he put away his gun.

At last report brother Bear still was sprawled in the big tree, blinking curiously at the two-legged characters gathered beneath him.

At South Portland, Maine, it was Bull Moose Day. The 900-pound creature was grazing peacefully in a swampy area when he was suddenly surrounded by police, photographers and hundreds of curious residents.

This went on for several hours and the big-antlered moose couldn't take it. He thundered across main streets and through back yards. Finally a steel fence was in his way. He charged full tilt. The fence didn't budge and the moose was all shook up. He surrendered meekly to a veterinarian, who gave him what he needed—a tranquilizer.

Last heard from, the mixed up moose was living it up on a pink cloud—but behind the bars of the state game farm.

At Duluth, Minn., a honey-loving bear came to grief near the home of a beekeeper whose hives had lured the animal into a residential district.

Residents spotted the bear several times, opened fire, but had no luck. As darkness came, somebody decided to string a line of light bulbs from a garage to a field. Lookouts were posted. When the bear appeared, the lights went up, some shots rang out, and it was curtains for the bear.

Auto Stalls On Grade, Then Hits Parked Car

A woman driver deliberately turned her car into a parked auto on the Washington St. grade near E. 3rd St. Wednesday night to prevent it from drifting onto busy E. 3rd St. after the motor stalled and the brakes failed, police reported.

Mrs. Jeannette L. Ketchum, 123 E. 3rd St. said she turned her 1954 two - door sedan off E. 3rd and was driving north on Washington when the motor stalled. As she coasted backward, the brakes failed, she added. To prevent the auto from drifting onto E. 3rd St., she turned it into a parked 1949 sedan owned by John W. Taylor, 304 Washington St., she said.

Chief Issues Warning On Gaston Parking

Parked autos that block Gaston Ave. during future football games at Patterson Field will be towed away at the owners' expense, Police Chief Americo Radeschi warned today.

The street, just west of the football field, was blocked by fans' autos during the Toledo Libbey game last Friday, the chief said. Blocking the street is particularly hazardous because it provides access to the Standard Oil Co. bulk station, he explained. In case of fire, equipment would not be able to reach the plant quickly if parking interfered, he said.

Medical Help To Be Studied Anew Friday

The question "Will one medical doctor be enough?" will be discussed when a committee of township residents meets Friday at 8 p. m. at the home of George Graham of Fairview.

The meeting will advance action by Ohio, Industry, South Beaver and Brighton Townships to obtain a doctor or doctors.

Committee members pointed out that because of the population to be served two or three doctors may be needed. Brighton has about 7,000 residents, Industry 3,600, Ohio 1,800 and South Beaver 800.

A public meeting is scheduled for October in cooperation with the Beaver County Medical Association.

Dr. J. W. Smith, secretary of the Beaver County association, has written to the Pennsylvania Medical Association relative to the meeting. The committee is awaiting an answer in the hope a representative will meet with the committee and public.

New Midland Sewer Lines Are Finished

Council Told State Now Must Resurface Excavated 10th St.

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, advised Midland Council Wednesday night installation of new storm sewer sections has been completed on 10th St. and in Lincoln Park near the high school.

He added resurfacing of the excavated part of 10th St. is now up to the state. The street is part of the state road system. Grading of the park, damaged by backed-up water, will be completed by next week, he added.

Work completed includes laying of 60 feet of 42 inch sewer pipe in Lincoln Park from the storm sewer at 10th St. and Beaver Ave. which "blew up" during the heavy rain of July 11. Some 500 feet of sewer was laid on 10th from Beaver to Midland Ave. Storm damages repairs amounted to $4,837.

Steve Germusa, president, said a report of the recent tax discussion will be presented Council at its next meeting Oct. 8.

An informal conference on the loss of machinery tax and both Midland's and the Crucible Steel Co.'s position in the new Beaver County assessment program was held Sept. 17 by councilmen and a representative of the steel firm.

Under the new county tax program effective Jan. 1, machinery is not taxable and Midland property owners may have to pay more taxes.

Council referred to the building committee a request of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Pack of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 to buy a borough-owned lot adjoining property they have acquired in town. Mrs. Pack said there is no way to get to the house except through the borough lot.

Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor, told councilmen the borough can not sell the lot outright but advertise for bids.

Councilman Lester Trainer said parking on Midland Heights Rd. has increased again and that police said they will crack down on violators.

Trainer also reported that the Hi-Spot Youth Center had increased attendance during last year and again this fall. He said Mrs. William Spisak, center director, would appreciate offers of clubs whose members might like to help out, particularly men since there are enough mothers.

Matt Brozic, street foreman, reported that all 25-mile-per-hour signs have been erected on the east end of Midland Ave. which replace higher speed limit signs.

Council approved returning three personal bonds to William Vinovich, former delinquent tax collector, as the 1954-1955 and 1956 tax duplicates have been settled in full.

Towing Of Auto Leads To Arrest Of 2 Drivers

When police discovered one auto towing another early Wednesday night on E. 4th St., the investigation led to the arrest of both drivers.

Ronald L. Whittington, 507 Elm St., who was steering the powerless car, was cited for operating an auto without a driver's license. William R. Flesch, also of 507 Elm St., who was towing the car steered by Whittington, was charged with driving an auto with improper license plates.

Both forfeited $16 bonds today in Municipal Court. Meanwhile, Noah Nichols of Glenmoor was fined $10 and costs today on a charge of operating an auto with improper license plates. He was cited at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday on E. 2nd St.

Pakistan Official Dies Of Assault Injuries

DACCA, Pakistan (AP) — The deputy speaker of the East Pakistan Provincial Assembly died today of injuries suffered when opposition members assaulted him in the Assembly.

Syed Zahid Ali was attacked Tuesday when he took the chair to replace Speaker Abdul Hakim, who was injured in an Assembly riot last Saturday.

Hakim supported the opposition to the ruling Awami League and was voted out of the speaker's office.

But when Ali—a supporter of the league—tried to replace him, opposition members hurled chairs and other pieces of furniture at him.

Ceremony At Chester

Ground Broken For Park Building

In the background is the high school band, which played for the ceremony under the direction of John Clovis. The invocation was given by the Rev. William Claghorn of the First Presbyterian Church.

About 125 attended the ceremony which marked the start of construction for the concrete block building to provide a recreation center, restroom facilities and dressingrooms for the athletic field.

About 25 high school boys have volunteered to help with the construction, R. M. McFarland, principal, reported. Funds for the work were obtained through a student sponsored "Buck-a-Block" campaign, still underway, and other contributions.

Soviet Surrenders 6 U.S. Fliers' Bodies

KARS, Turkey (AP)—The bodies of six U.S. airmen killed in a crash in Soviet Armenia Sept. 2 are back in Americans hands. The Soviets surrendered them at the Soviet-Turkish border Wednesday. The fate of 11 other crewmen remained a mystery.

The full story of the final flight of the C130 turboprop transport and the explosion and fire that destroyed it remained to be told.

The Soviets have protested that the transport "intentionally violated the Soviet border." The U.S. State Department said Soviet MIGs had jumped the plane near this provincial capital, 20 miles inside Turkey, and forced it across the border, though it did not accuse them of shooting it down.

Jury Indicts Mack, Former FCC Member

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury here today indicted Richard A. Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, and Miami lawyer Thurman A. Whiteside on charges of conspiring to defraud the United States.

The indictment, returned after a five-month investigation, alleged that Mack and Whiteside had improper dealings while the FCC was considering a four-way contest for TV channel 10 at Miami.

Whiteside was backing Public Service Television, Inc., National Airlines subsidiary, which won the channel.

Mack resigned from the commission March 3 after a House investigating committee developed that he had accepted financial favors from Whiteside while the channel 10 case was pending.

Mack said he had done no wrong. He and Whiteside both insisted the financial favors were based entirely on a long friendship.

A 48-year old Florida Democrat, Mack was named to the FCC by President Eisenhower in the summer of 1955. The channel 10 case was decided in February 1957.

Under a court order, FCC is currently rehearing the contest to determine whether undue influences figured in the outcome.

Millage To Be Cut In Midland District

Robert Zapsic of Midland, chief assessor for Beaver County's new assessment program, announced today new valuation for Industry and Ohio Townships and Glasgow Borough.

Industry Township valuations were increased from $1,113,025 to $2,550,730; Ohio Township, $884,605 to $2,144,120, and Glasgow Borough, $43,845 to $60,820.

Zapsic said there will be compensating millage cuts. The reduction for Industry will be from 10 to 5 mills for township tax, and 35 to 17 mills for the school tax.

In Ohio Township, the township road tax is being reduced from 9 to 4 mills and the school tax 35 to 15½ mills. In Glasgow, the tax is cut 15 to 11 mills for the borough tax and 35 to 28 mills for the school tax.

Countywide, the tax is reduced from 13 to 9 mills, Zapsic said.

Ohio Township and Glasgow Borough notices of change in assessments will be mailed today to property owners. Notices to property owners in Industry Township were sent out last week. About 30,000 notices have been mailed to date.

New taxes are figured on a valuation of 30 per cent of the market value property, Zapsic said.

Under the law adopted by the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1952, boroughs, townships and the county are prohibited from increasing the previous year's budget more than 5 per cent during the first year of the program. School boards are limited to a 10 per cent increase over the previous year.

Work started on the county's new tax program in 1955.

Soviet Surrenders 6 U.S. Fliers' Bodies

KARS, Turkey (AP)—The bodies of six U.S. airmen killed in a crash in Soviet Armenia Sept. 2 are back in Americans hands. The Soviets surrendered them at the Soviet-Turkish border Wednesday. The fate of 11 other crewmen remained a mystery.

The full story of the final flight of the C130 turboprop transport and the explosion and fire that destroyed it remained to be told.

The Soviets have protested that the transport "intentionally violated the Soviet border." The U.S. State Department said Soviet MIGs had jumped the plane near this provincial capital, 20 miles inside Turkey, and forced it across the border, though it did not accuse them of shooting it down.

Jury Indicts Mack, Former FCC Member

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury here today indicted Richard A. Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, and Miami lawyer Thurman A. Whiteside on charges of conspiring to defraud the United States.

The indictment, returned after a five-month investigation, alleged that Mack and Whiteside had improper dealings while the FCC was considering a four-way contest for TV channel 10 at Miami.

Whiteside was backing Public Service Television, Inc., National Airlines subsidiary, which won the channel.

Mack resigned from the commission March 3 after a House investigating committee developed that he had accepted financial favors from Whiteside while the channel 10 case was pending.

Mack said he had done no wrong. He and Whiteside both insisted the financial favors were based entirely on a long friendship.

A 48-year old Florida Democrat, Mack was named to the FCC by President Eisenhower in the summer of 1955. The channel 10 case was decided in February 1957.

Under a court order, FCC is currently rehearing the contest to determine whether undue influences figured in the outcome.

Slanderous Attacks On Eisenhower

Maybe Some Of Mao, Khrushchev Best Laid Plans Were Sidetracked

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

The official Chinese Communist press has called President Eisenhower a hooligan.

The Soviet Communist party has used its own official press to attack President Eisenhower personally and slanderously.

There is more than a suggestion of fury in all this. Perhaps some of the best laid plans of Mao Tze-tung and Nikita Khrushchev have been derailed.

It is not a matter of particular note that Khrushchev is furious. He usually is. It is just that he is getting furiouser and furiouser.

Khrushchev long ago discarded the notion that diplomacy should be the science of saying the most offensive things in the least offensive way. He seldom has had anything nice to say to the west at any time. When he has had something offensive, he has let it go in all its naked nastiness.

The Soviet boss, never aspiring to be the polished diplomat, has used epithets freely. He has used such endearing terms as "warmonger" and "arch-criminal" in speaking of Winston Churchill. Only recently he has seen fit to compare France's Premier de Gaulle with Hitler. But he had been a little more cautious—up to now—in his exchanges with President Eisenhower.

Now, however, he and his Chinese allies sound like two voices of a musical round.

A couple of days ago the official Chinese Communist press accused President Eisenhower of adopting "hooliganist methods" in rejecting Khrushchev's Sept. 19 letter. In that communication Khrushchev had accused the President of being a captive of a Dulles "brink of war" policy and of using atomic blackmail.

Hooligan is a Russian word and a nasty one, meaning the lowest type of rowdy. But the controlled Peiping press went beyond that. It compared the President with former Secretary of Defense Forrestal, who, it said, "suffering from military hysteria, went mad when it semeed to him Soviet planes already were bombing New York, and jumped from a window." Pravda, Khrushchev's official voice, saw fit to reprint this Peiping bit Wednesday.

In itself, all this fury is most interesting.

Possibly the least that had been expected of Khrushchev's letter was that it would bring a reply. The reply would call for another Khrushchev broadside and a debate would be under way in which the Communists could try to make fruitful propaganda.

Under this propaganda screen, the Communists might find a profitable way of easing off, temporarily, their pressure in the current Far East crisis, which is becoming more dangerous daily. The Chinese themselves were involved in a brink of war policy, without much to back it up, and the Soviets were committed to go to Chinese aid in the event of a shooting war with a third party.

A propaganda debate could be a springboard for another of Khrushchev's famous and ferocious letter-writing campaigns to frighten other governments and populations.

When Eisenhower rejected Khrushchev's letter out of hand, Red policy was in an awkward position. It had blustered and threatened. The threats and bluster had been dismissed as boorishness.

What could the Communists do next? They could hardly try again in a softer voice and admit the error of the previous approach. They would hardly want the outside world to think their bluff had been called. But they could scarcely resort to deeds instead of words. The Red Chinese cannot afford a major war and the Soviets have shown no enthusiasm for the prospect. Perhaps the big noise is designed to cover up a temporary confusion.

San Marino, with an area of 38 square miles, is the oldest and the smallest republic in the world.

Bringing Up A Family

Discretion Desirable In Quizzing Youngster

It's a fine objective for the teacher to have one or more conferences with parents about their children. Each may learn much from the other about the child and find ways of helping him develop as a person and do better at school.

By Garry Meyers

These conferences bring the best results when parents and teachers have great personal regard for each other. When either belittles or criticizes the other, the meetings cannot be very effective.

IDEALLY, the conference should take place about as often in the home as in the school. Demands on the teacher's time, however, don't make this always possible.

Most teachers get a smattering of psychiatry in their training. Even if they learn a good deal about hidden motives and urges of a parent (or the parent learns this about the teacher), discretion is desirable.

Some careful observers have lately warned the teacher against considering herself a professional counselor, prying into matters with parents or with children about parents. Finding out from either source how well the parents get along together whether they are too strict or bossy toward the child, are examples of such meddling.

Dr. Peter Neubauer says the teacher must draw the line between necessary information and mere satisfaction of curiosity.

She should not aim to seek more information than she can use for the child's good. What's the sense of pointing out problems to the parent unless you are able to help her solve them?

WRITER Dorothy Barclay reports that the Council for Basic Education has expressed concern over certain adjustment tests in which children are asked searching questions not only about themselves but also about their families.

Such queries run along these lines:

Does your mother tend to dominate your home? Have there been frequent quarrels among your near relatives?

Equally undesirable, the Council believes, are certain assignments in speech or theme writing which, if honestly carried out by pupils, could turn classrooms at school into "public confessionals."

The Teacher's Guide for Reporting to Parents (prepared by the Arlington (Va.) County Public Schools) urges teachers to be alert to problems serious enough for outside expert help.

It suggests ways for the parent to find out about the child at school and for the teacher to find out about the child at home, rather than for the teacher and parent to pry into the privacies of each other.

My bulletin, "Helping Our Children Succeed at School," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Slanderous Attacks On Eisenhower

Maybe Some Of Mao, Khrushchev Best Laid Plans Were Sidetracked

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

The official Chinese Communist press has called President Eisenhower a hooligan.

The Soviet Communist party has used its own official press to attack President Eisenhower personally and slanderously.

There is more than a suggestion of fury in all this. Perhaps some of the best laid plans of Mao Tze-tung and Nikita Khrushchev have been derailed.

It is not a matter of particular note that Khrushchev is furious. He usually is. It is just that he is getting furiouser and furiouser.

Khrushchev long ago discarded the notion that diplomacy should be the science of saying the most offensive things in the least offensive way. He seldom has had anything nice to say to the west at any time. When he has had something offensive, he has let it go in all its naked nastiness.

The Soviet boss, never aspiring to be the polished diplomat, has used epithets freely. He has used such endearing terms as "warmonger" and "arch-criminal" in speaking of Winston Churchill. Only recently he has seen fit to compare France's Premier de Gaulle with Hitler. But he had been a little more cautious—up to now—in his exchanges with President Eisenhower.

Now, however, he and his Chinese allies sound like two voices of a musical round.

A couple of days ago the official Chinese Communist press accused President Eisenhower of adopting "hooliganist methods" in rejecting Khrushchev's Sept. 19 letter. In that communication Khrushchev had accused the President of being a captive of a Dulles "brink of war" policy and of using atomic blackmail.

Hooligan is a Russian word and a nasty one, meaning the lowest type of rowdy. But the controlled Peiping press went beyond that. It compared the President with former Secretary of Defense Forrestal, who, it said, "suffering from military hysteria, went mad when it semeed to him Soviet planes already were bombing New York, and jumped from a window." Pravda, Khrushchev's official voice, saw fit to reprint this Peiping bit Wednesday.

In itself, all this fury is most interesting.

Possibly the least that had been expected of Khrushchev's letter was that it would bring a reply. The reply would call for another Khrushchev broadside and a debate would be under way in which the Communists could try to make fruitful propaganda.

Under this propaganda screen, the Communists might find a profitable way of easing off, temporarily, their pressure in the current Far East crisis, which is becoming more dangerous daily. The Chinese themselves were involved in a brink of war policy, without much to back it up, and the Soviets were committed to go to Chinese aid in the event of a shooting war with a third party.

A propaganda debate could be a springboard for another of Khrushchev's famous and ferocious letter-writing campaigns to frighten other governments and populations.

When Eisenhower rejected Khrushchev's letter out of hand, Red policy was in an awkward position. It had blustered and threatened. The threats and bluster had been dismissed as boorishness.

What could the Communists do next? They could hardly try again in a softer voice and admit the error of the previous approach. They would hardly want the outside world to think their bluff had been called. But they could scarcely resort to deeds instead of words. The Red Chinese cannot afford a major war and the Soviets have shown no enthusiasm for the prospect. Perhaps the big noise is designed to cover up a temporary confusion.

Discretion Desirable In Quizzing Youngster

It's a fine objective for the teacher to have one or more conferences with parents about their children. Each may learn much from the other about the child and find ways of helping him develop as a person and do better at school.

By Garry Meyers

These conferences bring the best results when parents and teachers have great personal regard for each other. When either belittles or criticizes the other, the meetings cannot be very effective.

New Philly Will Be Seeking Its First Win In Game Here

Quakers Have 8 Lettermen Among Squad

Though New Philadelphia's Quakers will bring a two-game losing streak to East Liverpool Friday night for the 37th game between the two schools since 1913, all indications point to another rough battle for the Potters who haven't whipped the Tuscarawas Countians since 1955.

Coach William Kidd's Quakers hold an impressive lead in the victory column over the Potters since 1913, winning 24 and losing only 11 One game ended in a scoreless tie.

New Philly dropped its opening game, 16-6, to Jackson, and was nosed out by Canton Timken last week, 6-0. The Potters, who have been rated an underdog in their last two outings, may have the edge this week in running and passing power.

KIDD pointed out that his Quakers made several costly mistakes in the loss to Jackson, but those who saw last week's game agreed that the team looked "100 per cent better" against Canton's high-powered offense.

New Philly's defeat by Timken came on a 46-yard touchdown run which broke a scoreless deadlock in the final two minutes of play.

The Quakers had two chances to score early in the game, but two fumbles inside the 10-yard line halted the drives.

Kidd, who is beginning his 11th year at the helm of the Quakers, can field a starting eleven which includes eight lettermen from last year's winning club that lost only two games while winning seven.

Eichel carried the burden of the running game in Philly's loss to Jackson, while Fabiano scored the lone touchdown on a 76-yard kickoff return.

New Philly's quarterback is Dutch Haupert, a 172-pound sophomore, who throws a fair pass but lacks experience in signal-calling, scouting reports reveal. The Quakers passed about a dozen times in each game.

Dave Massarelli, a 173-pound left end, teams with Fabiano to arm the Quakers with a tough pair of terminals. Each can catch passes capably. The tackles are Alfred Tate, 175-pound sophomore, and Jerry Redman, 200-pound senior. Bill Wade will probably go at center. He is 162 pounds and is also a letterman. Larry Walker, 185-pound senior, and Joe Frenzel, 160-pound senior letterman, will probably start at the guard positions.

The Quakers, who operate from an offensive T-formation and shift to a split-T attack, will be shooting for three victories in a row over East Liverpool. They won in 1956, 21-19, and 20-13 in 1957.

In the last 11 years, Kidd's squads have won 75, lost 27 and tied 6 for one of the better records in the state.

Following the East Liverpool game, the Quakers will meet Wooster, Ashland, Canton Lincoln, Bellaire, Uhrichsville, Cuyahoga Falls and Dover.

Rams Have It Made Again At Box Office

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No matter where they finish in the National Football League race, the Rams have it made again at the box office.

Season tickets for Los Angeles' home games are sold out, from goal to goal in the vast expanse of Memorial Coliseum. All indications point to the Rams leading the league once more in over-all gross.

The Rams had a 6-6 record at the end of the 1958 season, but they played to more than one million persons — the first time that had been done by any team, college or pro.

Nonpareil Club Sponsors Game

Potter-Ferry Reserves Will Clash

The Potter reserve squad, which includes primarily sophomores and freshmen, will meet the Purple Rider reserves Saturday night at 6:45 at Patterson Field in a game sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The Potters will be shooting for their first victory of the season after battling Beaver to a scoreless tie earlier this month. The Ferry reserves have one game under their belts also, a 19-0 win over Linsly Military Institute's reserves.

Ferry will bring a heavy squad here with one lineman scaling 200 pounds and another 190 and will provide a stiff test for Coach Bob Hedmond's gridders.

Fans who remember Fred Bruney as a Martins Ferry standout and later star at Ohio State University will be afforded a chance to see his younger brother in action Saturday. Bob Bruney, a 145-pound junior quarterback, is being touted by the Ferry coaching staff as a "can't miss" varsity man next fall.

Hedmond plans to field a starting lineup which will include 10 sophomores. and only on junior, tackle Bob Exton. Ferry's reserve starters include five juniors and six sophomores.

Tickets for the game may be purchased at the gate Saturday night and will cost 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Ralph Musuraca is chairman of the game.

The probable starting lineups follow:

East Liverpool	Martins Ferry
LE Archer, 150	Loude, 160
LT Hall, 170	Tork, 190
LG Mays, 140	Bennett, 150
C Montgomery, 160	Deal 145

LH Sparks, 140	Edmonson, 140
RH Thompson, 140	Brown, 150
FB Goodballet, 145	Canter, 160

Officials for the game include Clint Seevers, Lorin Howard and Dick Owen. Harry Wolfe will be in charge of the sideline markers.

Browns Acquire Deschaine, Hope Punting Solved

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown hopes his punting problems are solved with the acquisition Wednesday of Dick Deschaine from the Green Bay Packers.

"We hope we've patched up what might have been a weak spot on our team," said Brown.

Since Horace Gillom left the Browns in 1956, the kicking chores have been handled by two defensive backs—Lowe (Junior) Wren and Kenny Konz. Konz did the punting last year, averaging 39.3 yards on 61 kicks, 11th best in the league.

Deschaine, who has no college football experience, booted 63 times for the Packers. He ranked sixth among the league's 20 punters with a 42-yard average. His longest boot last year was 71 yards, equalled only by Norm Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams, who led the league in punting in 1956.

Pitching — Arnie Portocarrero, Orioles, set a modern Baltimore victory record with his 15th, blanking the Senators 2-0 on three hits while walking but two and striking out eight.

Hitting — Roger Maris, Athletics, had three hits, two of them homers, and drove in three runs in comeback, 7-4 victory over the Indians.

Rocky Slams 39th Homer, Tribe Loses

CLEVELAND (AP) — Rocky Colavito hit his 39th home run for Cleveland Wednesday night, but a former Indian, Roger Maris, belted his 27th and 28th for Kansas City and the Tribe missed its chance to break ahead out of the three-way tie for third place in the American League.

Kansas City's 7-4 victory gave the Athletics a 12-10 edge over the Indians in games this season.

Russ Nixon's third-inning homer for the Indians, Colavito's fourth-inning clout and a round-tripper by Maris made the score 2-1, but the A's tied it with three singles in the fifth.

After two more Kansas City singles in the sixth, losing pitcher Gary Bell (11-10) was replaced by Don Mossi. Joe Demaestri doubled two runs home and winning pitcher Ralph Terry (11-13) singled in another to put the home team in front 5-2.

Bob Avila boomed a pinch-homer after Hal Naragon's pinch-single in the seventh for the final two Indian runs; and Maris' homer after Mudcat Grant had walked Bill Tuttle in the eighth accounted for two more K.C. markers.

CHICAGO (AP) — It has been a second place finish for Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox again, again, again, again, again, again, again again and again.

In 11 years as a manager — 3 in Indianapolis, 6 in Cleveand and with the Sox — Lopez never has finished lower than second.

His 1948 Indianapolis Indians won the American Assn. pennant and his 1954 Cleveland Indians did likewise in the American League.

The nine other times, his clubs came in runnersup.

The Sox toppled the Detroit Tigers 4-3 Wednesday in 10 innings to take second place.

OSU Expected To Rely More On 'Air Arm'

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Woody Hayes smiles, then there can't be too much wrong with the world — at least with Ohio State's football world.

And who can blame the Buckeyes' coach? His wordly possessions include, beside family and home, the nation's No. 1 team, the Big Ten favorite, the groundmunchingest offense you ever did see, and now a passing attack designed to offset his rugged ground game.

This, and the general decorum of the team is what had Hayes, a dour man when it comes to evaluating football practices, glowing after Wednesday's session.

"They looked better, much better," he said. "I think they're beginning to rise to the occasion now."

The "occasion" is the Buck's opener Saturday at home against Southern Methodist, a Southwest Conference team that includes Don Meredith, a quarterback who led the nation's passers in percentage last year.

The pass, hitherto a keep-'em-honest weapon in the Bucks' offense, has been getting a bit more attention this fall from Hayes and his quarterback, Frank Kremblas. Kremblas had a .417 completion average last year, with 15 out of 36 for 243 yards and four touchdowns.

In comparison, halfback Don Clark and fullback Bob White were 2-3 in the Big Ten's final rushing statistics. Clark gained 522 yards, White 507, both more than double Kremblas' efforts. All three are slated to start against SMU.

North Carolina State had its backs working on Saturday opponent Maryland's pass operations in a defensive move, while Illinois drilled against home-opener opponent UCLA's aerial maneuvers.

Colgate polished a passing attack that looks to be their main hope against Cornell Saturday. Coach Fred Rice ceased for the week all heavy operations because of an abundance of bruises and sprains.

Yale did a bit of offense and defense on the passing game. The Eli's meet Connecticut Saturday, a team which blistered Springfield from the air in winning its opener.

Oklahoma State's aerial offense, which won a duel with Denver last Saturday, had Coach Cliff Speegle smiling, while he also worked his pass defense against expected North Texas State patterns.

Quarterback Bob Ptacek did the bulk of the throwing as Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterban prepared for the opener against Southern Cal. Syracuse's Ben Schwartzwalder tried to set up some preventive means against Boston College passer Don Allard. He planned to counter heavily with his own passer, Chuck Zimmerman.

Hayes Has High Praise For Ohio State Squad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes, in a rare mood, had high praise for his squad after a 1½ hour workout Wednesday. "They looked better, much better, and I think they're beginning to rise to the occasion now," he said. He was particularly pleased with the passing game.

Hawkins Posted Hot 2.80 ERA At Reading

Former New Waterford and Baldwin Wallace athlete Wynn Hawkins, rated as one of the top pitching prospects in the Cleveland Indians farm system, has completed his season with Reading in the Eastern League with a 5-7 record while posting a sizzling 2.80 earned run average.

The blonde youngster, who holds a basketball scoring record at Baldwin Wallace, dropped several one-run decisions and saw action in 33 games. He issued but 53 walks while fanning 90 batters in 129 innings and allowed but 35 earned runs.

Indian scouts are reported to be especially interested in the speedballer and think he may turn into a top flight major league hurler.

Mays Pads Lead In NL Bat Race

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays just keeps hittin'.

With three games to play, Willie has upped his lead over Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn to .0019 in their rousing run for the National League batting title.

Mays was 2-for-3 for San Francisco as the Giants lost 10-3 to the Chicago Cubs Wednesday, padding his average to .3458 in an 11-game surge in which he has batted at a .528 clip. Ashburn, batting .3439, was idle, returning to action Friday night with the Phils, who also have three games left.

In the American League, the New York Yankees ended their losing string at six, winning 7-5 at Boston. The Chicago White Sox clinched second place by beating Detroit 4-3 in 10 innings. Kansas City defeated Cleveland 7-4 and Baltimore beat Washington 2-0.

Mays walloped a double and triple as the Giants, within one victory of clinching third place, overhauled a 3-1 Chicago lead. But the Cubs cracked the tie with two runs in the eighth on an error and three singles, then splurged for five runs in the ninth, three on Lou Jackson's triple. Don Elston (3-8) was the winner, Ray Monzant (8-10) the loser, both in relief.

Stan Musial was 2-for-4 for the Cards, gaining two points for a third place .336 average in the bat race.

Charlie Mabe (2-9) was the loser, while winner Roger Craig (2-0) gave up four of the Cards' five hits in his 7 2-3 innings.

New Philly Will Be Seeking Its First Win In Game Here

Quakers Have 8 Lettermen Among Squad

Though New Philadelphia's Quakers will bring a two-game losing streak to East Liverpool Friday night for the 37th game between the two schools since 1913, all indications point to another rough battle for the Potters who haven't whipped the Tuscarawas Countians since 1955.

Coach William Kidd's Quakers hold an impressive lead in the victory column over the Potters since 1913, winning 24 and losing only 11 One game ended in a scoreless tie.

New Philly dropped its opening game, 16-6, to Jackson, and was nosed out by Canton Timken last week, 6-0. The Potters, who have been rated an underdog in their last two outings, may have the edge this week in running and passing power.

KIDD pointed out that his Quakers made several costly mistakes in the loss to Jackson, but those who saw last week's game agreed that the team looked "100 per cent better" against Canton's high-powered offense.

New Philly's defeat by Timken came on a 46-yard touchdown run which broke a scoreless deadlock in the final two minutes of play.

The Quakers had two chances to score early in the game, but two fumbles inside the 10-yard line halted the drives.

Kidd, who is beginning his 11th year at the helm of the Quakers, can field a starting eleven which includes eight lettermen from last year's winning club that lost only two games while winning seven.

Eichel carried the burden of the running game in Philly's loss to Jackson, while Fabiano scored the lone touchdown on a 76-yard kickoff return.

New Philly's quarterback is Dutch Haupert, a 172-pound sophomore, who throws a fair pass but lacks experience in signal-calling, scouting reports reveal. The Quakers passed about a dozen times in each game.

Dave Massarelli, a 173-pound left end, teams with Fabiano to arm the Quakers with a tough pair of terminals. Each can catch passes capably. The tackles are Alfred Tate, 175-pound sophomore, and Jerry Redman, 200-pound senior. Bill Wade will probably go at center. He is 162 pounds and is also a letterman. Larry Walker, 185-pound senior, and Joe Frenzel, 160-pound senior letterman, will probably start at the guard positions.

The Quakers, who operate from an offensive T-formation and shift to a split-T attack, will be shooting for three victories in a row over East Liverpool. They won in 1956, 21-19, and 20-13 in 1957.

In the last 11 years, Kidd's squads have won 75, lost 27 and tied 6 for one of the better records in the state.

Nonpareil Club Sponsors Game

Potter-Ferry Reserves Will Clash

The Potter reserve squad, which includes primarily sophomores and freshmen, will meet the Purple Rider reserves Saturday night at 6:45 at Patterson Field in a game sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

The Potters will be shooting for their first victory of the season after battling Beaver to a scoreless tie earlier this month. The Ferry reserves have one game under their belts also, a 19-0 win over Linsly Military Institute's reserves.

Ferry will bring a heavy squad here with one lineman scaling 200 pounds and another 190 and will provide a stiff test for Coach Bob Hedmond's gridders.

Fans who remember Fred Bruney as a Martins Ferry standout and later star at Ohio State University will be afforded a chance to see his younger brother in action Saturday. Bob Bruney, a 145-pound junior quarterback, is being touted by the Ferry coaching staff as a "can't miss" varsity man next fall.

Hedmond plans to field a starting lineup which will include 10 sophomores. and only on junior, tackle Bob Exton. Ferry's reserve starters include five juniors and six sophomores.

Tickets for the game may be purchased at the gate Saturday night and will cost 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Ralph Musuraca is chairman of the game.

The probable starting lineups follow:

East Liverpool	Martins Ferry
LE Archer, 150	Loude, 160
LT Hall, 170	Tork, 190

Kansas City's 7-4 victory gave the Athletics a 12-10 edge over the Indians in games this season.

Only a three-game series with Detroit starting here Friday night is left on the Cleveland schedule.

Russ Nixon's third-inning homer for the Indians, Colavito's fourth-inning clout and a round-tripper by Maris made the score 2-1, but the A's tied it with three singles in the fifth.

After two more Kansas City singles in the sixth, losing pitcher Gary Bell (11-10) was replaced by Don Mossi. Joe Demaestri doubled two runs home and winning pitcher Ralph Terry (11-13) singled in another to put the home team in front 5-2.

Bob Avila boomed a pinch-homer after Hal Naragon's pinch-single in the seventh for the final two Indian runs; and Maris' homer after Mudcat Grant had walked Bill Tuttle in the eighth accounted for two more K.C. markers.

FIGHT RESULTS

Austin, Tex. — Mel Barker, 150, Austin, outpointed Ray Portilla, 153, New York 10.

It's Second Again, Again, Again For Lopez

CHICAGO (AP) — It has been a second place finish for Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox again, again, again, again, again, again, again and again.

In 11 years as a manager — 3 in Indianapolis, 6 in Cleveand and with the Sox — Lopez never has finished lower than second.

His 1948 Indianapolis Indians won the American Assn. pennant and his 1954 Cleveland Indians did likewise in the American League.

The nine other times, his clubs came in runnersup.

The Sox toppled the Detroit Tigers 4-3 Wednesday in 10 innings to take second place.

Browns Acquire Deschaine, Hope Punting Solved

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown hopes his punting problems are solved with the acquisition Wednesday of Dick Deschaine from the Green Bay Packers.

"We hope we've patched up what might have been a weak spot on our team," said Brown.

Since Horace Gillom left the Browns in 1956, the kicking chores have been handled by two defensive backs—Lowe (Junior) Wren and Kenny Konz. Konz did the punting last year, averaging 39.3 yards on 61 kicks, 11th best in the league.

Deschaine, who has no college football experience, booted 63 times for the Packers. He ranked sixth among the league's 20 punters with a 42-yard average. His longest boot last year was 71 yards, equalled only by Norm Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams, who led the league in punting in 1956.

Boom was made on the roster for the 27-year-old Deschaine, of Menominee, Mich., by trading rookie end Jim Gibbons to the Detroit Lions for a draft choice.

Rams Have It Made Again At Box Office

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No matter where they finish in the National Football League race, the Rams have it made again at the box office.

Season tickets for Los Angeles' home games are sold out, from goal to goal in the vast expanse of Memorial Coliseum. All indications point to the Rams leading the league once more in over-all gross.

The Rams had a 6-6 record at the end of the 1958 season, but they played to more than one million persons — the first time that had been done by any team, college or pro.

OSU Expected To Rely More On 'Air Arm'

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Woody Hayes smiles, then there can't be too much wrong with the world — at least with Ohio State's football world.

And who can blame the Buckeyes' coach? His wordly possessions include, beside family and home, the nation's No. 1 team, the Big Ten favorite, the groundmunchingest offense you ever did see, and now a passing attack designed to offset his rugged ground game.

This, and the general decorum of the team is what had Hayes, a dour man when it comes to evaluating football practices, glowing after Wednesday's session.

"They looked better, much better," he said. "I think they're beginning to rise to the occasion now."

The "occasion" is the Buck's opener Saturday at home against Southern Methodist, a Southwest Conference team that includes Don Meredith, a quarterback who led the nation's passers in percentage last year.

The pass, hitherto a keep-'em-honest weapon in the Bucks' offense, has been getting a bit more attention this fall from Hayes and his quarterback, Frank Kremblas. Kremblas had a .417 completion average last year, with 15 out of 36 for 243 yards and four touchdowns.

In comparison, halfback Don Clark and fullback Bob White were 2-3 in the Big Ten's final rushing statistics. Clark gained 522 yards, White 507, both more than double Kremblas' efforts. All three are slated to start against SMU.

North Carolina State had its backs working on Saturday opponent Maryland's pass operations in a defensive move, while Illinois drilled against home-opener opponent UCLA's aerial maneuvers.

Colgate polished a passing attack that looks to be their main hope against Cornell Saturday. Coach Fred Rice ceased for the week all heavy operations because of an abundance of bruises and sprains.

Yale did a bit of offense and defense on the passing game. The Eli's meet Connecticut Saturday, a team which blistered Springfield from the air in winning its opener.

Oklahoma State's aerial offense, which won a duel with Denver last Saturday, had Coach Cliff Speegle smiling, while he also worked his pass defense against expected North Texas State patterns.

Quarterback Bob Ptacek did the bulk of the throwing as Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterban prepared for the opener against Southern Cal. Syracuse's Ben Schwartzwalder tried to set up some preventive means against Boston College passer Don Allard. He planned to counter heavily with his own passer, Chuck Zimmerman.

Hayes Has High Praise For Ohio State Squad

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State football Coach Woody Hayes, in a rare mood, had high praise for his squad after a 1½ hour workout Wednesday. "They looked better, much better, and I think they're beginning to rise to the occasion now," he said. He was particularly pleased with the passing game.

Former New Waterford and Baldwin Wallace athlete Wynn Hawkins, rated as one of the top pitching prospects in the Cleveland Indians farm system, has completed his season with Reading in the Eastern League with a 5-7 record while posting a sizzling 2.80 earned run average.

The blonde youngster, who holds a basketball scoring record at Baldwin Wallace, dropped several one-run decisions and saw action in 33 games. He issued but 53 walks while fanning 90 batters in 129 innings and allowed but 35 earned runs.

Indian scouts are reported to be especially interested in the speedballer and think he may turn into a top flight major league hurler.

Mays Pads Lead In NL Bat Race

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays just keeps hittin'.

With three games to play, Willie has upped his lead over Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn to .0019 in their rousing run for the National League batting title.

Mays was 2-for-3 for San Francisco as the Giants lost 10-3 to the Chicago Cubs Wednesday, padding his average to .3458 in an 11-game surge in which he has batted at a .528 clip. Ashburn, batting .3439, was idle, returning to action Friday night with the Phils, who also have three games left.

In the American League, the New York Yankees ended their losing string at six, winning 7-5 at Boston. The Chicago White Sox clinched second place by beating Detroit 4-3 in 10 innings. Kansas City defeated Cleveland 7-4 and Baltimore beat Washington 2-0.

Mays walloped a double and triple as the Giants, within one victory of clinching third place, overhauled a 3-1 Chicago lead. But the Cubs cracked the tie with two runs in the eighth on an error and three singles, then splurged for five runs in the ninth, three on Lou Jackson's triple. Don Elston (3-8) was the winner, Ray Monzant (8-10) the loser, both in relief.

Stan Musial was 2-for-4 for the Cards, gaining two points for a third place .336 average in the bat race.

Charlie Mabe (2-9) was the loser, while winner Roger Craig (2-0) gave up four of the Cards' five hits in his 7 2-3 innings.

Yankees Snap Losing Streak With 7-5 Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memo to Al Lopez: Welcome home, coach.

The nice guy skipper of the Chicago White Sox, after spending 54 days of the season in the second division and a month in the cellar, has clinched second place again.

In his 11 years as a manager, the last eight in the majors, Lopez never has finished lower than second.

But while that 4-3, 10-inning victory over Detroit Wednesday kept his record clear, it also fattened affable Al's frustration. He's the only American League manager excepting Casey Stengel who each spring insists the New York Yankees can be had.

And since he came up to the majors in 1951 to manage Cleveland, he's the only skipper who has managed to beat the Yankees, taking the 1954 flag when his Injuns won 111 games, an AL record.

Last year, Lopez quit the Tribe and conned the White Sox into their first second place finish in 37 years.

The Yankees, who had lost six straight since the day they clinched the pennant, ended their longest losing string in more than two years by busting Boston 7-5. Cleveland blew a chance to break a third place tie with Boston and Detroit by losing 7-4 at Kansas City. Baltimore handed the Washington Senators their fifth shutout in six games, 2-0, on the three-hit pitching of Arnie Portocarrero.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs clubbed San Francisco 10-3 and Los Angeles beat St. Louis 4-3 in the only games.

The White Sox won on Jim Landis' triple and Sherm Lollar's single in the 10th off losing reliever Tom Morgan (2-5). Don Rudolph (1-0) won it in relief.

Boston's Pete Runnels (1-for-4) kept the AL bat lead, at .324, while teammate Ted Williams (2-for-3) passed Detroit's Harvey Kuenn for second place at .320.

FCC Holds Up Boosts In Teletypewriter Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission Wednesday suspended proposed increases in the rate for private line teletypewriter services. The hikes had been scheduled to become effective Oct. 1.

The suspension orders to American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union Telegraph Co. directed that no changes in rates be made prior to Jan. 1.

This covers the maximum 90-day period during which the FCC may suspend a proposed rate change.

During the suspension, the FCC will investigate the reasonableness of the proposed rate rises.

British Hoping For Wind In U.S. Cup Yacht Races

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The British, their hopes for the America's Cup all but swamped in the bubbling wake of the shark-swift American defender, Columbia, are whistling for wind in today's third race.

Trailing 2-0 in the best-of-7 series, they're banking on wind and more wind to get the British challenger, Sceptre, off its haunches.

"It's getting better but not enough yet," said Colin Ratsey, Sceptre's assistant helmsman, after Columbia sailed out of sight Wednesday to defeat the challenger by almost a mile and a half.

At the finish Sceptre was just a grey ghost barely visible on the hazy horizon.

The British had said that winds up to 12 miles an hour were what they wanted for best results. They got it Wednesday. But, said Ratsey after the race:

"Sceptre's designed for a little more wind. We still haven't got up to the wind we expected to find here, 15 knots."

The accomodating weatherman said the British will get just that. The trouble is that the faster the wind, the bigger Columbia's victory margin has been.

"I don't think we're conceding anything yet. We're not convinced Columbia is the better boat," said Ratsey.

Olin Stephens, Columbia's designer and assistant helmsman, won't go so far as to say the Yankee 12-meter will win in four straight, but when asked if Sceptre would go faster in more wind he replied:

"It might but I don't think so."

Wednesday's race, a resail of Monday's contest that was called when the yachts failed to finish within the time limit, was over a 24-mile triangular course.

Columbia skimmed around it like a guided missile in three hours, 17 minutes and 43 seconds.

Fighters Eye Shot At Title

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Featherweight challengers Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, and Mexico's Kid Anahauc meet in a 10-round fight tonight, with the winner promised a title match with the world ruler of the 126-pounders, Hogan (Kid) Bassey.

It is a rematch of an encounter in Tijuana, Mexico, last July which kicked up such a storm that troops had to quell a small revolution in the vast bull ring.

"He run all night, the other guy. We couldn't catch him," said Willie Ketchum, Moore's portly manager.

The trouble started when an official refigured his point score. The crowd apparently thought he was changing it to favor Moore.

As most of the 9,000 people tried to get into the ring at once, Davey managed to escape, diving over a five-foot guard rail and fence in a hasty scramble for the dressing room.

Senator Ketchum, lacking Davey's speed or footwork, hurried from the scene as best he could, wearing a towel over his shoulder, a look of fright on his face and a chair over his head.

"They were t'rowing bottles, cans, stools, paper wadded up which if they weren't t'rowing they were setting fire to, or both. "This in all my years in boxing I never seen like it before.

"Tonight," said Willie, "I will have handy if I need it a football helmet."

With only four games to play, the quiet Texan has a .324 mark—four points ahead of defending champion Williams.

It doesn't sound logical that the Fenway Park left field wall would aid a left-handed batter, but the spray-hitting Red Sox infielder has proved it's true in his case.

"I'm not conscious I'm doing anything different than in previous years," Runnels said. "I do feel, however, that the left field wall has helped me quite a bit here. I have hit some balls off the wall here I know would be outs in other parks."

Acquired from Washington in the greatest Boston deal since Jackie Jensen came from the Senators in '54, Runnels stresses his big assist from Williams.

"Ted has helped me quite a bit this year," Pete said. "Williams told me to choke up my grip more on the bat as I got tired. The last couple of weeks I've been doing just that and have been getting the bat around faster on the ball."

Hillen And Shamblin May Start For WVU

Hillen, 230 - pound senior from Smock, Pa., and the 200 - pound Shamblin, a junior from Sissonville, were on the second unit for last Saturday's opening game romp over Richmond, 66-22.

Coach Art Lewis said he was not sure that he would juggle the line - ups. Hillen would move in for Dick Guesman, a 245 - pound senior, while Noel Whipkey of Charleston was last week's starting fullback.

The first three games will be played in Montreal. Then they shift to Minneapolis for completion of the best-of-seven set.

Bonnie Will Capture Feature At Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Bonnie Will, a smart-running 5-year-old bay mare, seemed to slow down at each of the quarter poles for a "breather" Wednesday night, but won handily the featured seventh race of the Lebanon trots to pay her backers $17.20, $4.40 and $3.20.

She followed Kenny j., part of the way, then Harvey's Dream, finally nosing out both to leave them in that order, in place and show.

Strategical Field Day Expected

Yankees' Bench Stronger Than Braves' For Series

By BEN OLAM

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees can knock on wood. He has a strong bench.

The Yankee reserves are the best in the business, considerably better than Milwaukee's in ability and versatility.

Always the master maneuverer, Stengel has outdone himself this season. He's made a full-time shortstop of Tony Kubek, an outfielder of Yogi Berra, a third baseman of second sacker Bobby Richardson while rushing in his pinch - hitters and pinch-runners with the usual abandon.

Fred Haney of the Braves has come up with some effective switches of his own. He moved first baseman Joe Adcock to left field and second baseman Felix Mantilla to center on several occasions.

Enos Slaughter, a .313 batter in his 23rd season in pro ball, is the best pinch-hitter on either club. The Yanks also got some timely regular season pinch-hits from Jerry Lumpe, Elston Howard, Hank Bauer and pitcher Don Larsen.

Adcock will be Milwaukee's No. 1 pinch-hitter when he doesn't start. He will be backed up by Andy Pafko and Harry Hanebrink.

So, the 1958 World Series which gets underway in Milwaukee next Wednesday, figures to provide a strategical field day for both managers.

A lot depends on the starting pitchers. When lefty Whitey Ford pitches for New York, the Braves likely will have Adcock at first base and either switch - hitting Mantilla or righty Pafko in center.

The big question for the Yankees is: "Where will Yogi Berra play?" Howard took over as the No. 1 catcher and Berra moved to the outfield after Yogi recovered from a hand injury late in July. Chances are that Berra will open behind the plate with Hank Bauer in right field.

In addition to Richardson, the Yankees have Andy Carey and Lumpe for third base. Carey probably will get the nod for the first couple of games at least. In left field, Norm Siebern, a lefty batter, has been in against all types of pitching the last couple of months. But Stengel may choose to replace him with Howard against southpaw Warren Spahn.

In most cases, the names will be the same as in last year's series. But the positions will be different in several instances.

Friday — Wrapup and prediction.

TWO LOAL teams — East Liverpool and Wellsville — have joined the Elks Traveling League this year and will use the Don Bus Alleys as their home base. The league, which includes 12 teams representing Elks Lodges in Southern Ohio, bowls every other Sunday night.

Reporting from East End, Dale Keddie and Howard Wakefield, who have taken over the Head Pin Alleys and are doing a complete remodeling job, have set Oct. 1 as a tentative opening date. Automatic pin setters are being installed and the alleys refinished.

An oddity in the split department: Brothers John and Virgil Marrelli, following each other in the Duquesne Beer lineup, brought in identical splits, the 3-10, last Thursday in the American League.

IN THE City Ten Pin League, Eddie Shingler, bowling for Ohio Power, wasn't satisfied with one but picked up the 3-10 split three times, Dave McFaul mastered the 5-10 split twice, Art Daugherty, 5-8-10 combination, Buck Wilson, 5-6-10, Kayle Reark, 2-7, Howard Smith, 6-7, Dick Grier, 5-10, Dunch Ferrello, 3-10, Dick Allison, 3-10, Ernie Kollmayer, 2-7, and Rudy Fabro, 3-10.

Rich Argentinian, 76, Weds Jap Woman, 34

Jose Gallicchio, a rancher whose wife died 10 years ago, was wed to Miss Michiko Furukawa, 34, a Japanese teacher at the U. S. consulate at Fukuoka.

Gallicchio had said he hoped to acquire a Japanese bride while here on a sightseeing tour. He said the "feminity and kindness" of Japanese women had impressed him.

The bride commented, "I'm already 34 years old and it's very difficult to make a happy marriage in Japan. I wanted to go to South America since I was a child. I don't care how rich my husband is."

Beaten Boxer Hospitalized

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis, seventh ranking light heavyweight, was so emotionally upset after losing to Sonny Ray in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night he had to be hospitalized.

The 20-year-old fighter, stopped at 1:22 of the ninth round by the 3-1 underdog Ray, was incoherent afterwards in his dressing room, which was barred to newsmen.

His rantings could be heard through the closed door and Dr. Irving Slott, chief examining physician of the Illinois Athletic Commission, worked over him for more than 20 minutes.

Later he was taken to Columbus Hospital.

"I would say he would be in the hospital at least two days as a precautionary measure," said Dr. Slott. "He is emotionally upset and further tests to evaluate the situation must be made. He definitely is rational, though."

Under Illinois rules, a fighter absorbing a kayo is suspended automatically for 30 days and such a suspension is upheld throughout the National Boxing Assn. chain.

Only three times in 26 bouts as a pro has Bowdry been defeated—all three losses being to the 22-year-old Ray.

Yankees Snap Losing Streak With 7-5 Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memo to Al Lopez: Welcome home, coach.

The nice guy skipper of the Chicago White Sox, after spending 54 days of the season in the second division and a month in the cellar, has clinched second place again.

In his 11 years as a manager, the last eight in the majors, Lopez never has finished lower than second.

But while that 4-3, 10-inning victory over Detroit Wednesday kept his record clear, it also fattened affable Al's frustration. He's the only American League manager excepting Casey Stengel who each spring insists the New York Yankees can be had.

And since he came up to the majors in 1951 to manage Cleveland, he's the only skipper who has managed to beat the Yankees, taking the 1954 flag when his Injuns won 111 games, an AL record.

The Yankees, who had lost six straight since the day they clinched the pennant, ended their longest losing string in more than two years by busting Boston 7-5. Cleveland blew a chance to break a third place tie with Boston and Detroit by losing 7-4 at Kansas City. Baltimore handed the Washington Senators their fifth shutout in six games, 2-0, on the three-hit pitching of Arnie Portocarrero.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs clubbed San Francisco 10-3 and Los Angeles beat St. Louis 4-3 in the only games.

The White Sox won on Jim Landis' triple and Sherm Lollar's single in the 10th off losing reliever Tom Morgan (2-5). Don Rudolph (1-0) won it in relief.

Boston's Pete Runnels (1-for-4) kept the AL bat lead, at .324, while teammate Ted Williams (2-for-3) passed Detroit's Harvey Kuenn for second place at .320.

FCC Holds Up Boosts In Teletypewriter Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission Wednesday suspended proposed increases in the rate for private line teletypewriter services. The hikes had been scheduled to become effective Oct. 1.

The suspension orders to American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union Telegraph Co. directed that no changes in rates be made prior to Jan. 1.

This covers the maximum 90-day period during which the FCC may suspend a proposed rate change.

During the suspension, the FCC will investigate the reasonableness of the proposed rate rises.

British Hoping For Wind In U.S. Cup Yacht Races

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The British, their hopes for the America's Cup all but swamped in the bubbling wake of the shark-swift American defender, Columbia, are whistling for wind in today's third race.

Trailing 2-0 in the best-of-7 series, they're banking on wind and more wind to get the British challenger, Sceptre, off its haunches.

"It's getting better but not enough yet," said Colin Ratsey, Sceptre's assistant helmsman, after Columbia sailed out of sight Wednesday to defeat the challenger by almost a mile and a half.

The British had said that winds up to 12 miles an hour were what they wanted for best results. They got it Wednesday. But, said Ratsey after the race:

"Sceptre's designed for a little more wind. We still haven't got up to the wind we expected to find here, 15 knots."

The accomodating weatherman said the British will get just that. The trouble is that the faster the wind, the bigger Columbia's victory margin has been.

"I don't think we're conceding anything yet. We're not convinced Columbia is the better boat," said Ratsey.

Olin Stephens, Columbia's designer and assistant helmsman, won't go so far as to say the Yankee 12-meter will win in four straight, but when asked if Sceptre would go faster in more wind he replied:

"It might but I don't think so."

Wednesday's race, a resail of Monday's contest that was called when the yachts failed to finish within the time limit, was over a 24-mile triangular course.

Fighters Eye Shot At Title

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Featherweight challengers Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, and Mexico's Kid Anahauc meet in a 10-round fight tonight, with the winner promised a title match with the world ruler of the 126-pounders, Hogan (Kid) Bassey.

It is a rematch of an encounter in Tijuana, Mexico, last July which kicked up such a storm that troops had to quell a small revolution in the vast bull ring.

"He run all night, the other guy. We couldn't catch him," said Willie Ketchum, Moore's portly manager.

The trouble started when an official refigured his point score. The crowd apparently thought he was changing it to favor Moore.

As most of the 9,000 people tried to get into the ring at once, Davey managed to escape, diving over a five-foot guard rail and fence in a hasty scramble for the dressing room.

Senator Ketchum, lacking Davey's speed or footwork, hurried from the scene as best he could, wearing a towel over his shoulder, a look of fright on his face and a chair over his head.

"They were t'rowing bottles, cans, stools, paper wadded up which if they weren't t'rowing they were setting fire to, or both.

"I'm not conscious I'm doing anything different than in previous years," Runnels said. "I do feel, however, that the left field wall has helped me quite a bit here. I have hit some balls off the wall here I know would be outs in other parks."

Acquired from Washington in the greatest Boston deal since Jackie Jensen came from the Senators in '54, Runnels stresses his big assist from Williams.

"Ted has helped me quite a bit this year," Pete said. "Williams told me to choke up my grip more on the bat as I got tired. The last couple of weeks I've been doing just that and have been getting the bat around faster on the ball."

Hillen And Shamblin May Start For WVU

Coach Art Lewis said he was not sure that he would juggle the line - ups. Hillen would move in for Dick Guesman, a 245 - pound senior, while Noel Whipkey of Charleston was last week's starting fullback.

Royals, Millers Wait Little World Series

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Royals, winners of the International League pennant and playoffs, and the Minneapolis Millers, victorious in the American Assn. playoffs, square off Friday night in the first game of the Little World Series.

The Royals won the right to represent the International League Wednesday night by downing the Toronto Maple Leafs 11-10 for a 4-1 victory in the best-of-seven series. The Millers previously qualified by knocking off Denver, winner of the series last year, in four straight games.

The first three games will be played in Montreal. Then they shift to Minneapolis for completion of the best-of-seven set.

Bonnie Will Capture Feature At Lebanon

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Bonnie Will, a smart-running 5-year-old bay mare, seemed to slow down at each of the quarter poles for a "breather" Wednesday night, but won handily the featured seventh race of the Lebanon trots to pay her backers $17.20, $4.40 and $3.20.

She followed Kenny j., part of the way, then Harvey's Dream, finally nosing out both to leave them in that order, in place and show.

Youth Found Unhurt After All-Night Hunt

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Michael Robusky, 12-year-old son of Geauga County Sheriff Louis Robusky, was found uninjured today following an all-night search by a posse of nearly 500 men.

The boy, who wandered away from home shortly before dark Wednesday night, was spotted by Robert Busser, 27, near the service station he operates at Concord, on Ohio 44 between here and Painesville. Busser brought him to the sheriff's office.

Strategical Field Day Expected

Yankees' Bench Stronger Than Braves' For Series

By BEN OLAM

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees can knock on wood. He has a strong bench.

The Yankee reserves are the best in the business, considerably better than Milwaukee's in ability and versatility.

Always the master maneuverer, Stengel has outdone himself this season. He's made a full-time shortstop of Tony Kubek, an outfielder of Yogi Berra, a third baseman of second sacker Bobby Richardson while rushing in his pinch - hitters and pinch-runners with the usual abandon.

Fred Haney of the Braves has come up with some effective switches of his own. He moved first baseman Joe Adcock to left field and second baseman Felix Mantilla to center on several occasions.

Enos Slaughter, a .313 batter in his 23rd season in pro ball, is the best pinch-hitter on either club. The Yanks also got some timely regular season pinch-hits from Jerry Lumpe, Elston Howard, Hank Bauer and pitcher Don Larsen.

Adcock will be Milwaukee's No. 1 pinch-hitter when he doesn't start. He will be backed up by Andy Pafko and Harry Hanebrink.

So, the 1958 World Series which gets underway in Milwaukee next Wednesday, figures to provide a strategical field day for both managers.

A lot depends on the starting pitchers. When lefty Whitey Ford pitches for New York, the Braves likely will have Adcock at first base and either switch - hitting Mantilla or righty Pafko in center.

The big question for the Yankees is: "Where will Yogi Berra play?" Howard took over as the No. 1 catcher and Berra moved to the outfield after Yogi recovered from a hand injury late in July. Chances are that Berra will open behind the plate with Hank Bauer in right field.

In addition to Richardson, the Yankees have Andy Carey and Lumpe for third base. Carey probably will get the nod for the first couple of games at least. In left field, Norm Siebern, a lefty batter, has been in against all types of pitching the last couple of months. But Stengel may choose to replace him with Howard against southpaw Warren Spahn.

In most cases, the names will be the same as in last year's series. But the positions will be different in several instances.

STRIKES, SPARES

By ROB NIBLOCK

Bowling has been under way for nearly a month at the Don - Bus Alleys and participants in the 10 leagues which already have started are rolling for new highs each week.

Looking at high scores turned in around the leagues, Claude Ruckman rolled a 245 for high single game mark of the season in the Federal League, while George Simballa, bowling in the same league, posted the high series of the season with a 669.

PAT CREATURO rolled a 191 game and a 481 series to establish the season highs in the Cosmo League, with three weeks gone.

In the National League, where Gengerellas and the Owls Club are locked in a first - place tie with 13 points each, City Bar rolled a new single game high of 979 and a new three - game high team total of 2,966.

Chic Golden is high man in the P.F.&M. Co. League with a 563 series and a 214 high game.

Tuesday was an exceptional night for scoring in the Federal League with 13 games over 200.

Jack Boyd had a 233 high game, beating Simballa who had 231. Boyd also had a 631 series — a 21-pin edge on his nearest rival, John Reark. The Milliron Co. continues to lead the Federal League with a 17-point total.

A three -way tie in the City Ten Pin League was broken Tuesday when Rearks Cigarettes moved out in front of Strohs Beer and Irwin Drugs. Dick Grier had high three - game series with a 551 total and Ernie Bishop and "Dunch" Ferrello tied for high game with 202 totals.

TWO LOAL teams — East Liverpool and Wellsville — have joined the Elks Traveling League this year and will use the Don Bus Alleys as their home base. The league, which includes 12 teams representing Elks Lodges in Southern Ohio, bowls every other Sunday night.

Reporting from East End, Dale Keddie and Howard Wakefield, who have taken over the Head Pin Alleys and are doing a complete remodeling job, have set Oct. 1 as a tentative opening date. Automatic pin setters are being installed and the alleys refinished.

An oddity in the split department: Brothers John and Virgil Marrelli, following each other in the Duquesne Beer lineup, brought in identical splits, the 3-10, last Thursday in the American League.

IN THE City Ten Pin League, Eddie Shingler, bowling for Ohio Power, wasn't satisfied with one but picked up the 3-10 split three times, Dave McFaul mastered the 5-10 split twice, Art Daugherty, 5-8-10 combination, Buck Wilson, 5-6-10, Kayle Reark, 2-7, Howard Smith, 6-7, Dick Grier, 5-10, Dunch Ferrello, 3-10, Dick Allison, 3-10, Ernie Kollmayer, 2-7, and Rudy Fabro, 3-10.

The T. S. & T. League had eight splits to spares with John Vervin collecting the 4-5-7, Bill Wedgewood, 8-9, Alvin Bunner 4-7, Howard Robinson, 5-10, Jim Massey, 3-10, Joe Morris, 4-7, Jim Noble, 5-10, and Glenn Wilson, 3-10.

In the Federal League, Frank Kreefer made the 3-10, Pete Seevers, 5-7, Schon, 4-7-10, Springel, 3-10, Shannon, 3-10, R. Talbott, 3-10, Sprouse, 2-7-8, H. Thompson, 3-5-10, Pete and Persohn, 3-10.

Rich Argentinian, 76, Weds Jap Woman, 34

Jose Gallicchio, a rancher whose wife died 10 years ago, was wed to Miss Michiko Furukawa, 34, a Japanese teacher at the U. S. consulate at Fukuoka.

Gallicchio had said he hoped to acquire a Japanese bride while here on a sightseeing tour. He said the "feminity and kindness" of Japanese women had impressed him.

The bride commented, "I'm already 34 years old and it's very difficult to make a happy marriage in Japan. I wanted to go to South America since I was a child. I don't care how rich my husband is."

Beaten Boxer Hospitalized

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis, seventh ranking light heavyweight, was so emotionally upset after losing to Sonny Ray in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night he had to be hospitalized.

The 20-year-old fighter, stopped at 1:22 of the ninth round by the 3-1 underdog Ray, was incoherent afterwards in his dressing room, which was barred to newsmen.

His rantings could be heard through the closed door and Dr. Irving Slott, chief examining physician of the Illinois Athletic Commission, worked over him for more than 20 minutes.

Later he was taken to Columbus Hospital.

"I would say he would be in the hospital at least two days as a precautionary measure," said Dr. Slott. "He is emotionally upset and further tests to evaluate the situation must be made. He definitely is rational, though."

Under Illinois rules, a fighter absorbing a kayo is suspended automatically for 30 days and such a suspension is upheld throughout the National Boxing Assn. chain.

Only three times in 26 bouts as a pro has Bowdry been defeated—all three losses being to the 22-year-old Ray.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Invasion By Foreign Film

The voluptuous queens of foreign filmdom, whose state of undress frequently ignites friction between movie exhibitors and religious groups, are headed toward television in all their natural glory.

Marie Torre

This development can be likened to the growth of specialized theaters — the "art houses," showing foreign and selected American films — in the last decade of motion picture history.

Just as film goers have emerged as more adult, perceptive and selective theater patrons, television's movie addicts, it's said, are acquiring discriminating tastes, and they may be served by a new operation called "Art Theater of the Air."

The title encompasses a whole slew of recently made foreign films now available to TV, featuring such tantalizing visions as Brigitte Bardot, Gina Lollobrigida, Sophia Loren, Silvana Mangano, Daniele Darrieux and Corinne Calvet.

THE AMERICAN keeper of these European-made pictures is a bantom dynamo named Joseph Harris whose distribution of the films is but one of the many and varied projects that come under the heading of Essex-Universal Corp.

Mr. Harris, encouraged no end by the fact that he has "sold" a Brigitte Bardot movie to TV stations in areas where you'd expect a "sex kitten" to be shunned, takes a dim view of those who denounce foreign movies as being "all nudity and obscenity."

"To understand the foreign films properly," explains Mr. Harris, "you have to understand the thinking of the French, the Italians and the English. The more we travel abroad, the more we begin to understand ways of the Europeans. The interest in foreign films is a lot greater than some TV stations owners think."

WHEN MR. HARRIS got his corporate hands on such acclaimed imports as "Rififi," "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," "I Am a Camera" and "Wages of Fear," he met with considerable disinterest from television film buyers all over the country. There seem to be some sort of taboo against them, particularly foreign films with dubbed-in dialog.

Undaunted, Mr. Harris examined his movies again, noted that every one of them had received at least one film award, and offered them again under the heading of "Critics Award Theater." Just as he expected, the sales graph shot up.

At this early phase of foreign films on TV, Mr. Harris' company thus far has commitments amounting to $1,250,000 for the showing of 36 movies on local stations over the next three years. And he is acquiring new European films as fast as he can buy them up, even some which have yet to be completed.

He attributes some of his success to a new method in dubbing the films.

"The whole concept of dubbing," he says, "has been all wrong, and sort of ludicirous. Doesn't it seem cockeyed, for instance, to hear a cool American voice speaking for a demonstrative, excited Frenchman?

"Well, it does to me and a lot of other people. When we dub a French film, we hire actors with French accents. You'd be surprised, it makes all the difference in the world."

FRED ASTAIRE JR. completed his four-year hitch with the Air Force and is assisting producer-director Bud Yorkin on his father's NBC special Oct. 17. . .

"Maverick" undoubtedly will disagree with Western hero Robert Culp ("Trackdown"), who shuns female support on TV because; "The classic Western cowboy in the post-Civil War period was a real loner who would have been as much out of place in the moonlight on a front porch as in the pilot seat of a Buck Rogers' rocket." By playing a ladies' man, nevertheless, "Maverick" has given both Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen a run for their ratings.

Sid Caesar will be without a "TV wife" for his three scheduled appearances on NBC this season, but that doesn't mean he'll have no feminine support. Shirley MacLaine will be with him for his initial excursion on Nov. 2. . . .

Alfred Hitchcock, who likes to play press agent for his series, writes: "Despite rumors you might have heard, I will not be seen in the role of Billy the Kid on television this fall. My agent, though perfectly aware I could handle the role, has advised me to turn it down. 'Alfred Hitchcock Presents' will confine itself to less harrowing episodes like our premiere, 'Poison,' which is a tender tale of a poisonous snake perched for a half hour on a helpless man. Our new CBS series gets under way Oct. 5, when my sponsor — bless him — starts footing the bills for another year."

Farmers Reminded Wool Setup Extended

The Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service reminded farmers today the national wool incentive program has been extended for another three years.

The program was scheduled to expire March 31, 1959, but was extended to March 31, 1962 in the new farm law enacted in August.

The purpose of the wool program is to increase the national production of wool. Payments are made to wool growers to supplement their income from marketings. For the present marketing year, the incentive payment rate is 62 cents a pound, and payments will be made on a percentage basis to encourage producers to do the best possible job of marketing their wool.

Hancock Yield High In Wheat

40 To 50 Bushels Per Acre Reported

Hancock County farmers reaped record wheat crops this year—40 to 50 bushels per acre at times—compared with the average of only 25 bushels in past years, according to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Most farmers reported the record wheat yields when able to harvest on time, he said.

"Some of the finest wheat I have seen in the bin was at the H. L. Sutton farm on Swearingen Hill near New Cumberland," Johnson said. The Seneca variety is grown on the Sutton farm and is very similar to the old standby, Thorne, but has a higher bushel test weight, a slightly higher yield and a little stiffer straw, Johnson added.

County farmers used six to eight pecks of wheat seed to the acre in the fall after the first killing frost, the agricultural agent explained. "Wheat not only germinates better when soil cools down but the delayed planting cuts down on the Hessian fly damage," he said.

Johnson recommended use of two tablespoons of 50 per cent Malation for each gallon of water for farmers who wish to rid trees of white pine bark aphid, a white cottony substance appearing on the trunks and limbs of needle - type evergreens.

Midland Toastmasters Plan Officer Induction

The Midland Toastmasters Club discussed plans for installation of officers when it met Tuesday night at Deramo's Restaurant with Lester Trainer acting toastmaster.

The installation will be held at 6:30 p. m. Oct. 7 at Deramo's. The tentative program will see retiring officers giving a resume of their duties to the new officers.

DiSalle Raps At Gov. O'Neill

Says He Encouraged Tainted Labor Heads

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill has given indirect encouragement to corrupt labor leaders, says Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle.

"When racketeers and hoodlums can associate themselves with candidates for high office and officeholders, they are encouraged to continue their nefarious practices," DiSalle told a Democratic rally at the Muskingum County Fairgrounds here Wednesday night.

The Toledo Democrat referred to what he said were reports that O'Neill sought and accepted endorsement of William Presser and Louis Triscaro, Cleveland Teamsters Union officials. They recently took the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions before the Senate Rackets Committee on their alleged dealings with gangsters.

Presser is head of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters and Triscaro is head of Cleveland Teamsters Local 436.

DiSalle also challenged O'Neill's statement Monday that he never sought the endorsement of unions.

The Democratic candidate said three Cleveland newspapers, on Oct. 4, 1956, carried stories disputing O'Neill's statement. DiSalle said the stories quoted William Finnegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor.

Finnegan told his central group that "O'Neill was selected for endorsement by his group because he was willing to sit down with leaders of labor and expressed opposition to the (proposed) 'right-to-work' law and made other commitments of interest to this group the stories were quoted by DiSalle as saying.

O'Neill, in Monday's statement, said he personally was "going to vote for the 'right-to-work' amendment" to the Ohio Constitution.

Curbs Hula Hoops

LAURENCE HARBOR, N.J. (AP) — The Madison Township School Board has forbidden pupils to spin hula hoops from the time they leave for school till they return home. It said the pupils get so wound up in the hoops they show up late for school and even endanger themselves crossing streets.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Invasion By Foreign Film

The voluptuous queens of foreign filmdom, whose state of undress frequently ignites friction between movie exhibitors and religious groups, are headed toward television in all their natural glory.

Marie Torre

This development can be likened to the growth of specialized theaters — the "art houses," showing foreign and selected American films — in the last decade of motion picture history.

Just as film goers have emerged as more adult, perceptive and selective theater patrons, television's movie addicts, it's said, are acquiring discriminating tastes, and they may be served by a new operation called "Art Theater of the Air."

The title encompasses a whole slew of recently made foreign films now available to TV, featuring such tantalizing visions as Brigitte Bardot, Gina Lollobrigida, Sophia Loren, Silvana Mangano, Daniele Darrieux and Corinne Calvet.

THE AMERICAN keeper of these European-made pictures is a bantom dynamo named Joseph Harris whose distribution of the films is but one of the many and varied projects that come under the heading of Essex-Universal Corp.

Mr. Harris, encouraged no end by the fact that he has "sold" a Brigitte Bardot movie to TV stations in areas where you'd expect a "sex kitten" to be shunned, takes a dim view of those who denounce foreign movies as being "all nudity and obscenity."

"To understand the foreign films properly," explains Mr. Harris, "you have to understand the thinking of the French, the Italians and the English. The more we travel abroad, the more we begin to understand ways of the Europeans. The interest in foreign films is a lot greater than some TV stations owners think."

WHEN MR. HARRIS got his corporate hands on such acclaimed imports as "Rififi," "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," "I Am a Camera" and "Wages of Fear," he met with considerable disinterest from television film buyers all over the country. There seem to be some sort of taboo against them, particularly foreign films with dubbed-in dialog.

Undaunted, Mr. Harris examined his movies again, noted that every one of them had received at least one film award, and offered them again under the heading of "Critics Award Theater." Just as he expected, the sales graph shot up.

At this early phase of foreign films on TV, Mr. Harris' company thus far has commitments amounting to $1,250,000 for the showing of 36 movies on local stations over the next three years. And he is acquiring new European films as fast as he can buy them up, even some which have yet to be completed.

He attributes some of his success to a new method in dubbing the films.

"The whole concept of dubbing," he says, "has been all wrong, and sort of ludicirous. Doesn't it seem cockeyed, for instance, to hear a cool American voice speaking for a demonstrative, excited Frenchman?

"Well, it does to me and a lot of other people. When we dub a French film, we hire actors with French accents. You'd be surprised, it makes all the difference in the world."

FRED ASTAIRE JR. completed his four-year hitch with the Air Force and is assisting producer-director Bud Yorkin on his father's NBC special Oct. 17. . .

"Maverick" undoubtedly will disagree with Western hero Robert Culp ("Trackdown"), who shuns female support on TV because; "The classic Western cowboy in the post-Civil War period was a real loner who would have been as much out of place in the moonlight on a front porch as in the pilot seat of a Buck Rogers' rocket." By playing a ladies' man, nevertheless, "Maverick" has given both Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen a run for their ratings.

Sid Caesar will be without a "TV wife" for his three scheduled appearances on NBC this season, but that doesn't mean he'll have no feminine support. Shirley MacLaine will be with him for his initial excursion on Nov. 2. . . .

Alfred Hitchcock, who likes to play press agent for his series, writes: "Despite rumors you might have heard, I will not be seen in the role of Billy the Kid on television this fall. My agent, though perfectly aware I could handle the role, has advised me to turn it down. 'Alfred Hitchcock Presents' will confine itself to less harrowing episodes like our premiere, 'Poison,' which is a tender tale of a poisonous snake perched for a half hour on a helpless man. Our new CBS series gets under way Oct. 5, when my sponsor — bless him — starts footing the bills for another year."

Farmers Reminded Wool Setup Extended

The Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service reminded farmers today the national wool incentive program has been extended for another three years.

The program was scheduled to expire March 31, 1959, but was extended to March 31, 1962 in the new farm law enacted in August.

The purpose of the wool program is to increase the national production of wool. Payments are made to wool growers to supplement their income from marketings. For the present marketing year, the incentive payment rate is 62 cents a pound, and payments will be made on a percentage basis to encourage producers to do the best possible job of marketing their wool.

Hancock Yield High In Wheat

40 To 50 Bushels Per Acre Reported

Hancock County farmers reaped record wheat crops this year—40 to 50 bushels per acre at times—compared with the average of only 25 bushels in past years, according to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Most farmers reported the record wheat yields when able to harvest on time, he said.

"Some of the finest wheat I have seen in the bin was at the H. L. Sutton farm on Swearingen Hill near New Cumberland," Johnson said. The Seneca variety is grown on the Sutton farm and is very similar to the old standby, Thorne, but has a higher bushel test weight, a slightly higher yield and a little stiffer straw, Johnson added.

County farmers used six to eight pecks of wheat seed to the acre in the fall after the first killing frost, the agricultural agent explained. "Wheat not only germinates better when soil cools down but the delayed planting cuts down on the Hessian fly damage," he said.

Johnson recommended use of two tablespoons of 50 per cent Malation for each gallon of water for farmers who wish to rid trees of white pine bark aphid, a white cottony substance appearing on the trunks and limbs of needle - type evergreens.

Fire Wardens Announced In 11 Townships

Forest Protection Starting Wednesday To Require Permits

Forest fire wardens for 11 townships in Columbiana County have been announced by the Ohio Division of Forestry at New Philadelphia for the autumn forest fire season which begins Wednesday and continues through November.

Abundant summer rains have produced a lush growth of vegetation which will shortly be converted by frost into a highly flammable brush, forestry officials warned.

All residents are urged to use caution with fires kindled out of doors. In 11 of the county's townships, permits are required for kindling any fire in the open outside towns and villages during October, November, March, April and May.

Permits may be obtained from the following township wardens:

St. Clair — King Reed of the Sub-station, Walter J. Burbick, Harold Thompson and Warren Smith of R. D. 1, Laura May Smith, Clarence Green and LaVerne Seckman of R. D. 2, Thurman Rambo of Lisbon St. Ext. and L. D. Congrove of M.C. 22.

Liverpool — Harry Smith of Dixonville, Keith Coleman of Sophia St., Wilbert Taylor of Price St., John Gilson of East Liverpool R. D. and Homer L. Cronin of LaCroft St.

CD Police To Aid With City Traffic

As part of its training program, the police service section of the Civil Defense 31st Mobile Support Group will aid in directing auto and pedestrian traffic in East Liverpool on Thursday nights, when stores are open until 8:30.

Arrangements for the aid of the CD unit were announced Wednesday by Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti, who met with members of the group Tuesday night at City Hall.

The Mobile Support Group has members throughout the area. Those who reside in East Liverpool will be assigned to the volunteer work here, the director explained. They will augment regular police and auxiliary police of the East Liverpool CD Council, he explained. The program will be supervised by Patrolman William W. Dunn.

City Man Among 33 Ohioans Given Degree

The highest honor in Free Masonary — the 33rd degree — was conferred on Alex Kidd of East Liverpool Wednesday at the 146th annual session of the Supreme Council, 33rd Degree, Scottish Rite Masons in Pittsburgh.

Rural Teachers Await Annual Fall Workshop

LISBON — Some 250 county school teachers and consultants are expected to attend the annual fall workshop of the county rural school system Friday at the United Local School near Hanoverton.

Walter Bliss, executive secretary of the Ohio Education Association, will be guest speaker. The theme will be "Exploring Techniques."

Some 5,500 county school children will get a holiday with the dismissal of schools tomorrow for the workshop. Lunch will be served to the teachers at the United Local cafeteria.

Truck Wires Damaged In Minor Lisbon Fire

LISBON — Wiring in the motor of a pickup truck of David Wymer of Cream Ridge Rd. was damaged this morning about 10 when the motor ignited while under repair at a village garage.

Volunteer firemen used a foamite extinguisher to quell the flames, which broke out while the truck was being repaired at the Clifford March garage, 209 E. Lincoln Way.

March said the gas line of the motor had been removed when gasoline in the motor ignited. He attempted unsuccessfully to fight the fire with the garage extinguisher then called firemen.

Lawrence Link To Pittsburgh TV Case Erased By Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators have officially corrected testimony about the part taken by Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh in a television case.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said his House subcommittee investigating regulatory agencies has no record of correspondence between Lawrence and Richard A. Mack, Federal Communications Commission member.

Earlier, subcommittee investigator Oliver Eastland testified the subcommittee had copies of two letters Lawrence wrote Commissioner Robert T. Bartley.

Eastland said the group also had a copy of an acknowledgement from Mack indicating Lawrence had written Mack too about the Pittsburgh channel 4 case, then before the commission. The case was decided last year.

However, Harris said a recheck showed that the acknowledgement by Mack actually was of a telegram sent to Mack by J. Frank McKenna Jr., city solicitor of Pittsburgh, not by Lawrence.

In Pittsburgh, Lawrence acknowledged writing to Bartley and said he had "fought consistently and vigorously for additional television channels for this area."

Mack, a Floridian, resigned from the FCC under fire earlier this year after disclosure of his financial relations with Atty. Thurman Whiteside, who was active on behalf of an applicant for a Miami TV channel.

8 Area Mayors Back Hunston For Senator

An endorsement and letter of support for Atty. Walter J. Hunston of Salem, Republican candidate for the State Senate from the 20th-22nd District, has been presented by mayors of four cities and four villages in Columbiana County.

The letter, endorsing Hunston because of his training as a lawyer, his knowledge of the district and interest in the welfare of the people, was signed by Mayor Fred Lawrence of East Liverpool, Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville, Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville, Mayor Harold D. Smith of Salem, Mayor Ralph Kennedy of Leetonia, Mayor Earl Welch of New Waterford, Mayor Paul Merwin of East Palestine and Mayor Howard Hart of Hanoverton.

No Nike Practice Due

CLEVELAND (AP)—There will be no demonstration practice firing of a Nike missile across frozen Lake Erie this winter or any other time or place except at adequate practice ranges, Rep. William E. Minshall (R-Ohio) said he has been promised by the Army. Minshall had protested against a proposal for on-site firings of Nike missiles here.

CD Police To Aid With City Traffic

As part of its training program, the police service section of the Civil Defense 31st Mobile Support Group will aid in directing auto and pedestrian traffic in East Liverpool on Thursday nights, when stores are open until 8:30.

Arrangements for the aid of the CD unit were announced Wednesday by Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti, who met with members of the group Tuesday night at City Hall.

The Mobile Support Group has members throughout the area. Those who reside in East Liverpool will be assigned to the volunteer work here, the director explained. They will augment regular police and auxiliary police of the East Liverpool CD Council, he explained. The program will be supervised by Patrolman William W. Dunn.

City Man Among 33 Ohioans Given Degree

The highest honor in Free Masonary — the 33rd degree — was conferred on Alex Kidd of East Liverpool Wednesday at the 146th annual session of the Supreme Council, 33rd Degree, Scottish Rite Masons in Pittsburgh.

Other Ohioans receiving the honor were Virgil O. Mathias of New Philadelphia, Robert L. Hammond and Albert B. Miller, both of Canton, and Daniel C. Rapp of Ironton.

Rural Teachers Await Annual Fall Workshop

LISBON — Some 250 county school teachers and consultants are expected to attend the annual fall workshop of the county rural school system Friday at the United Local School near Hanoverton.

Walter Bliss, executive secretary of the Ohio Education Association, will be guest speaker. The theme will be "Exploring Techniques."

Some 5,500 county school children will get a holiday with the dismissal of schools tomorrow for the workshop. Lunch will be served to the teachers at the United Local cafeteria.

Truck Wires Damaged In Minor Lisbon Fire

LISBON — Wiring in the motor of a pickup truck of David Wymer of Cream Ridge Rd. was damaged this morning about 10 when the motor ignited while under repair at a village garage.

Volunteer firemen used a foamite extinguisher to quell the flames, which broke out while the truck was being repaired at the Clifford March garage, 209 E. Lincoln Way.

March said the gas line of the motor had been removed when gasoline in the motor ignited. He attempted unsuccessfully to fight the fire with the garage extinguisher then called firemen.

Lawrence Link To Pittsburgh TV Case Erased By Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators have officially corrected testimony about the part taken by Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh in a television case.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said his House subcommittee investigating regulatory agencies has no record of correspondence between Lawrence and Richard A. Mack, Federal Communications Commission member.

Harris told this to reporters several hours after Wednesday's hearing.

Earlier, subcommittee investigator Oliver Eastland testified the subcommittee had copies of two letters Lawrence wrote Commissioner Robert T. Bartley.

Eastland said the group also had a copy of an acknowledgement from Mack indicating Lawrence had written Mack too about the Pittsburgh channel 4 case, then before the commission. The case was decided last year.

However, Harris said a recheck showed that the acknowledgement by Mack actually was of a telegram sent to Mack by J. Frank McKenna Jr., city solicitor of Pittsburgh, not by Lawrence.

In Pittsburgh, Lawrence acknowledged writing to Bartley and said he had "fought consistently and vigorously for additional television channels for this area."

Mack, a Floridian, resigned from the FCC under fire earlier this year after disclosure of his financial relations with Atty. Thurman Whiteside, who was active on behalf of an applicant for a Miami TV channel.

8 Area Mayors Back Hunston For Senator

An endorsement and letter of support for Atty. Walter J. Hunston of Salem, Republican candidate for the State Senate from the 20th-22nd District, has been presented by mayors of four cities and four villages in Columbiana County.

The letter, endorsing Hunston because of his training as a lawyer, his knowledge of the district and interest in the welfare of the people, was signed by Mayor Fred Lawrence of East Liverpool, Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville, Mayor Karl Lindner of Salineville, Mayor Harold D. Smith of Salem, Mayor Ralph Kennedy of Leetonia, Mayor Earl Welch of New Waterford, Mayor Paul Merwin of East Palestine and Mayor Howard Hart of Hanoverton.

No Nike Practice Due

CLEVELAND (AP)—There will be no demonstration practice firing of a Nike missile across frozen Lake Erie this winter or any other time or place except at adequate practice ranges, Rep. William E. Minshall (R-Ohio) said he has been promised by the Army. Minshall had protested against a proposal for on-site firings of Nike missiles here.

1959 Prospects Brighter

Business Advance Looms

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Industrial leaders today are asking: How big a gain in business can we expect? Some brave ones are already answering.

If the turn in the economy means better sales prospects, they need to pinpoint the share they can expect and to set the production and marketing plans that will capture it.

It adds up largely to a moderate to good advance this fall in durables and soft goods, with 1959 prospects brighter. The interviews highlight a special marketing conference here of the American Management Assn.

Malcolm P. Ferguson, president of Bendix Aviation in Detroit, stresses the government's big role. He foresees "a four to five year period of defense expenditures substantially at the present rate and with increased emphasis on new weapons systems and research and development." But he looks for "little or no increase in the volume of procurement of so-called conventional equipment and soft goods."

In this connection the Department of Commerce is just out with a prediction that procurement contracts to be signed by the Defense Department this fiscal year will reach 19 billion dollars, up a billion from last year.

Robert S. Stevenson, president of Allis-Chalmers of West Allis, Wis., says "1958 is showing decided strength" in the farm equipment industry, which felt the recession ahead of most others, and is recovering sooner. A big help: farm income is 5 to 6 per cent ahead of 1957.

Arthur Rosenbaum, manager of the Economic Research Division of Sears, Roebuck of Chicago, thinks national retail sales of soft goods will be only 1 per cent higher this fall than last, but looks for a 4 to 5 per cent gain for next spring over the previous year's figures. Women's and children's apparel show a stronger sales trend than men's clothing. Retail competition is holding down the pressures for price increases, he says.

A. B. Layton, president of Crown-Zellerbach of San Francisco, reports the paper industry operating around 85 per cent of capacity although production is only 3 per cent below the 1956 high. He says: "The excess capacity comes from substantial new facilities started several years ago in expectation of increasing growth, but completed amid a recession."

2 Lawrence County Jail Escapees Nabbed

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Two escapees from Lawrence County Jail here were captured in a nearby wooded area Wednesday.

Raymond Adams, 28, of Waverly, and William Pennington, 18, of Rt. 2, Ironton, and Ashland, Ky., escaped Sunday. They forced a sheriff's deputy at gunpoint into their cell. They said later that the gun was smuggled to them by an unidentified friend.

Residents tipped off authorities Wednesday and the pair was captured without a fight.

1959 Prospects Brighter

Business Advance Looms

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Industrial leaders today are asking: How big a gain in business can we expect? Some brave ones are already answering.

If the turn in the economy means better sales prospects, they need to pinpoint the share they can expect and to set the production and marketing plans that will capture it.

Coast-to-coast telephone interviews today with leaders in key industries and some government spending experts show how the thinking is running.

It adds up largely to a moderate to good advance this fall in durables and soft goods, with 1959 prospects brighter. The interviews highlight a special marketing conference here of the American Management Assn.

Malcolm P. Ferguson, president of Bendix Aviation in Detroit, stresses the government's big role. He foresees "a four to five year period of defense expenditures substantially at the present rate and with increased emphasis on new weapons systems and research and development." But he looks for "little or no increase in the volume of procurement of so-called conventional equipment and soft goods."

In this connection the Department of Commerce is just out with a prediction that procurement contracts to be signed by the Defense Department this fiscal year will reach 19 billion dollars, up a billion from last year.

Robert S. Stevenson, president of Allis-Chalmers of West Allis, Wis., says "1958 is showing decided strength" in the farm equipment industry, which felt the recession ahead of most others, and is recovering sooner. A big help: farm income is 5 to 6 per cent ahead of 1957.

Arthur Rosenbaum, manager of the Economic Research Division of Sears, Roebuck of Chicago, thinks national retail sales of soft goods will be only 1 per cent higher this fall than last, but looks for a 4 to 5 per cent gain for next spring over the previous year's figures. Women's and children's apparel show a stronger sales trend than men's clothing. Retail competition is holding down the pressures for price increases, he says.

A. B. Layton, president of Crown-Zellerbach of San Francisco, reports the paper industry operating around 85 per cent of capacity although production is only 3 per cent below the 1956 high. He says: "The excess capacity comes from substantial new facilities started several years ago in expectation of increasing growth, but completed amid a recession."

2 Lawrence County Jail Escapees Nabbed

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Two escapees from Lawrence County Jail here were captured in a nearby wooded area Wednesday.

Raymond Adams, 28, of Waverly, and William Pennington, 18, of Rt. 2, Ironton, and Ashland, Ky., escaped Sunday. They forced a sheriff's deputy at gunpoint into their cell. They said later that the gun was smuggled to them by an unidentified friend.

Residents tipped off authorities Wednesday and the pair was captured without a fight.

Friends Fined For Assisting Man's Escape

Three men were fined $25 and costs each Wednesday afternoon when Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw convicted them of distracting the attention of a policeman Monday night to aid the escape of a friend who had been taken into custody for parole violation.

The defendants were William L. Cline, 25, of 633 Jefferson St., and Robert Gene Moore, 20, and William E. Price, 23, both of R. D. 1.

The charge was filed by Patrolman Milton L. Fowler, who said they distracted his attention late Monday night at W. 6th St. and Dresden Ave. and aided in the escape of Alfred Higgins, 23, of Shadyside Ave., whom he had taken into custody on a pickup order issued by a parole officer.

Fowler testified he was standing at the intersection with his prisoner, waiting on arrival of a cruiser to take them to City Hall, when the three defendants approached from the rear and one of them spoke to him. He said when he turned toward Cline, Moore and Price, Higgins fled on Dresden Ave. and vanished on W. 7th St.

The hearing started yesterday morning and continued into the mid-afternoon. All three men pleaded not guilty. They were charged under a state law that forbids "unlawfully rescuing a prisoner from lawful custody."

Area Constables Plan To Organize Statewide Unit

The Eastern Ohio Constables Association, composed of constables of Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull Counties, will become the nucleus of the Ohio Constables Association, a statewide organization, upon the processing of incorporation papers John Herman Jr., of Salem, president, announced today.

Herman said a number of letters have been mailed to county constable units, inviting them to merge to promote the enactment by the State Legislature of beneficial legislation and to secure changes in police laws.

Letters will be sent to the remaining constable organizations in the state upon receipt of the charter, Herman said.

Plans for a speedy unification of constable organizations will be furthered at future meetings, he said.

The Perry Township constable estimated there are 800 constables in the state. About 120 belong to the Eastern Ohio Constables Association.

About 28 members of the Eastern Ohio unit viewed training films at a meeting at Salem Wednesday night. The motion pictures, shown by Salem city patrolman Robert Kirchgessner, were on phases of investigations dealing with hit-skip traffic mishaps and drunk driving.

The next meeting will be Oct. 15 at the Wellsville City Hall. Training films and speakers will be on the program, Herman said.

Grunewald, 65, 'Fixer' In Tax Scandals, Dies

He suffered a stroke Monday and had been unconscious in a hospital here since then. In the last five years he had survived five heart attacks.

In 1955, Grunewald and two others were convicted of conspiracy in a $160,000 payoff to Grunewald to kill federal tax prosecutions against two firms. They won a reversal in the Supreme Court, however, on a legal technicality. A New York jury deadlocked last July in a first retrial, and a second trial had been set for Oct. 6.

The codefendants are Daniel A. Bolich, former assistant internal revenue commissioner; and Max Halperin, a New York lawyer for two firms which were having income tax troubles in the late 1940s.

Ford Strike Comes To End In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United Auto Workers' strike against Ford Motor Co. plants has ended here, leaving in Ohio only 3,500 workers out at Cincinnati's two transmission plants and 1,400 at a hardware plant in Sandusky.

The executive board of UAW Local 1250 shortly before midnight Wednesday approved a settlement reached two hours earlier after a long negotiating session. Effected was the contract for 6,700 employes at Ford's two engine plants and foundry on Brook Park Rd.

A return to work was to begin with today's mid-afternoon shift at the No. 2 engine plant and other workers are to report back starting with tonight's midnight shift, a company spokesman announced.

The strike started as part of a national strike by the UAW against Ford on Sept. 17. A national agreement was reached within a few hours after the walkout. But the strike continued locally pending settlement of supplementary agreements on local conditions in various individual plants.

Dave Sparks, president of Local 1250, called the agreement terms "fair and honorable." He said the package agreed upon was "one of the best in the country" among Ford plant contracts. It covered seniority adjustments, shift preference, job posting overtime agreement, rate inequities and foundry relief, Sparks said.

2 Area Men Are Fined In Horse Book Charge

NEW CUMBERLAND — An area man and another from Weirton were each fined for horse book making at hearings Wednesday before Squire John D. Herron.

John Porec of R. D. 1 was fined $200 and costs on the bookie charge and Thomas Meade McLister of Weirton was fined $200 and costs for the booking horses and another of $200 for operating a lottery.

Both were arrested earlier this month by West Virginia State Police during a raid on Mac's Place in Weirton.

Election To Mark Oct. 2 Conference Of Sewage Group

Election of officers and selection of sites for meetings in 1959 will highlight a session scheduled in East Liverpool Thursday, Oct. 2, by the Eastern Ohio Section of the Ohio Sewage and Industrial Wastes Treatment Conference.

The meeting will start at 3 p. m. with tours of the city's new sewage treatment plant and water works system. A dinner is scheduled at 6 at the Travelers Hotel. The business session will follow at 7, with election of 1959 officers, selection of sites for next year's meetings and designation of committees on awards.

The meeting is expected to attract about 100 from 8 Eastern Ohio counties. One of the principal speakers will be Robert K. Horton, assistant director of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission.

Unwanted Hitch-Hiker

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP)—It took several Humane Society workers to help a woman motorist get rid of her unwanted hitch-hiker. The motorist said the huge boxer dog jumped into her parked car in Mount Clemens. "He was so big I didn't dare throw him out," she said.

Ford Strike Comes To End In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United Auto Workers' strike against Ford Motor Co. plants has ended here, leaving in Ohio only 3,500 workers out at Cincinnati's two transmission plants and 1,400 at a hardware plant in Sandusky.

The executive board of UAW Local 1250 shortly before midnight Wednesday approved a settlement reached two hours earlier after a long negotiating session. Effected was the contract for 6,700 employes at Ford's two engine plants and foundry on Brook Park Rd.

A return to work was to begin with today's mid-afternoon shift at the No. 2 engine plant and other workers are to report back starting with tonight's midnight shift, a company spokesman announced.

The strike started as part of a national strike by the UAW against Ford on Sept. 17. A national agreement was reached within a few hours after the walkout. But the strike continued locally pending settlement of supplementary agreements on local conditions in various individual plants.

Dave Sparks, president of Local 1250, called the agreement terms "fair and honorable." He said the package agreed upon was "one of the best in the country" among Ford plant contracts. It covered seniority adjustments, shift preference, job posting overtime agreement, rate inequities and foundry relief, Sparks said.

Prayer, Faith, Laughter

Old Remedy Good Healer

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Today's wonder drugs work miracles, but old-fashioned prayer, faith and laughter are still potent healers.

This story of a young wife with three children seems to prove a point. It began last March when the wife telephoned her husband who was in Holland on a business trip.

"I'm afraid I have some terrible news," she said. "The doctors say I have tuberculosis."

"But are they sure?" asked the staggered husband.

"Yes. The X-rays show two spots. One is a bad cavity. They want me to go to the hospital tomorrow."

"What's funny?"

The husband hurried home. The doctors were right. He helped his wife pack and ordered a taxi for the hospital. Tearfully, she said goodby to her children.

It was a gray day, one of those damp London afternoons when the mist-shrouded buildings blended mournfully into the slate-colored sky.

The taxi bumped along—and to the husband's horror — began to overtake a funeral procession.

During the next two vital weeks the wife was injected with the new miracle drugs of science. Telegrams came to her bedside from friends in several parts of the world.

She was Russian born and one message from Moscow said the Orthodox priest at St. Peter and Paul had lighted some candles and offered prayers for her recovery.

"Engaged," said the sign.

"Honey," she said to her husband, "will you scratch out that word 'engaged'?"

"Yes, but why?"

"Well, after 15 years married life, don't you think it should at least read, 'married'?"

The eminent doctor beside her bed smiled. He shook his head. Surgeon to King George VI, he was one of the world's greatest authorities on tuberculosis.

"Drugs and operations work miracles," he said. "So does laughter such as that."

This week the wife was allowed to dress and go outside the hospital grounds with her husband to have tea.

Her gaiety seemed to fill the sun-lit garden — even when she said a quiet prayer of thanks.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Will Power Plan Aids Teen-Age Dieters

Tune in, Teens — this day is your day. Try this on for size: "It just seems everything I eat turns to fat, but I guess I eat too many sweet things."

Ida Jean Kain

Or this: "My teen age daughter is much overweight, but she resents our suggestions about diet and exercise. Please try to make her see how much she is missing in life by being so overweight. She has plenty of personality and would be pretty if she could only slim down. Stress the fact that lunching on sweets and lack of exercise are back of excess weight and acne. . ."

Or a third plea: "I know I could stick to a diet if I just knew of a way I could lose weight."

ALL RIGHT, girls, I'll give you a will power building sentence to say when confronted with forbidden sweets. Here it is: "What do I want most, five minutes taste pleasure or to be shapely weight and hear the telephone ring for a date?"

One spirited teen - ager wrote that she is going to memorize that sentence and say it right out loud whenever she is tempted to take seconds or to eat rich desserts or sweets. You might like to try that plan.

And here is a way to cut that voracious appetite down to size. Tonight at dinner put a luncheon size plate at your place. Take a modest size serving of everything on the menu. Trim all fat from your portion of meat and skip the gravy.

Limit bread to one slice, and take only a half small pat of butter — by measurement; that's a half teaspoon. Eat slowly so you can really taste the flavor of each food. There is more taste satisfaction in slow eating — besides, it allows you to eat longer for fewer calories!

At this time of the year when mellons and peaches are plentiful, you can probably have a piece of fruit for dessert if the family dessert is too high in calories.

When you first get up from the table, you'll feel as if you could eat twice that amount of food. Say the magic sentence, and remember that a walk away from the table in time can save your figure. Thirty minutes later you will not feel hungry.

One teen - ager girl who accepted the invitation to join the teenage challenge to curb excess calories and frolic through exercises has already reported. She writes: "I think I am showing some progress — not much, but some. Here is the comparison: bust 36; waist from 27 to 25½; abdomen from 36 to 35; hips from 37 to 36; weight from 136½ to 133 pounds. I was 15 yesterday."

OVERWEIGHT girls, get in the spirit of shaping up and slimming down and you'll even have fun doing it! You need not go hungry. Just stop overeating and cut out the junk calories.

Eat three moderate meals a day, trim unneeded fats and skip rich desserts. Have an after - school pick-up and keep it within 100 calories. Make it a slim milk shake — skim milk, a drop of vanilla, a non- nutritive sweetener — all whipped together.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

ALL RIGHT, girls, I'll give you a will power building sentence to say when confronted with forbidden sweets. Here it is: "What do I want most, five minutes taste pleasure or to be shapely weight and hear the telephone ring for a date?"

One spirited teen - ager wrote that she is going to memorize that sentence and say it right out loud whenever she is tempted to take seconds or to eat rich desserts or sweets. You might like to try that plan.

And here is a way to cut that voracious appetite down to size. Tonight at dinner put a luncheon size plate at your place. Take a modest size serving of everything on the menu. Trim all fat from your portion of meat and skip the gravy.

Limit bread to one slice, and take only a half small pat of butter — by measurement; that's a half teaspoon. Eat slowly so you can really taste the flavor of each food. There is more taste satisfaction in slow eating — besides, it allows you to eat longer for fewer calories!

At this time of the year when mellons and peaches are plentiful, you can probably have a piece of fruit for dessert if the family dessert is too high in calories.

When you first get up from the table, you'll feel as if you could eat twice that amount of food. Say the magic sentence, and remember that a walk away from the table in time can save your figure. Thirty minutes later you will not feel hungry.

One teen - ager girl who accepted the invitation to join the teen-age challenge to curb excess calories and frolic through exercises has already reported. She writes: "I think I am showing some progress — not much, but some. Here is the comparison: bust 36; waist from 27 to 25½; abdomen from 36 to 35; hips from 37 to 36; weight from 136½ to 133 pounds. I was 15 yesterday."

OVERWEIGHT girls, get in the spirit of shaping up and slimming down and you'll even have fun doing it! You need not go hungry. Just stop overeating and cut out the junk calories.

Eat three moderate meals a day, trim unneeded fats and skip rich desserts. Have an after - school pick-up and keep it within 100 calories. Make it a slim milk shake — skim milk, a drop of vanilla, a non- nutritive sweetener — all whipped together.

Turn on a record and swing through calisthenics. More about slimming exercises tomorrow.
